No time for diplomacy. You are all waiting for money which you have technically received. It will be released to you once you complete this mission with me. It was paid to you. My colleagues and I at FNB and ABSA have had reasons and interests which meant we could not allow that flow of funds to reach you as yet. As you all know, that has been our only insurance to ensure you all play your part in bringing that overachieving, nuisance of a bitch down.

This is no time to turn back and definitely no time to try and expose myself or any of my fellow CEOs at the other banks we have been hiding funds in. We have collectively worked well together to discredit, embarrass, confuse and frustrate Jessica and her family. She is not cracking as we expected. She is sickly and has no support or security. Use the next 12 hours wisely. Kill her. In fact, Kill them all. If any Maaga survives the next 12 hours, we are all going to face major charges for major crimes.

I'll pay you whatever you want. We will even release the funds she has already paid to you repeatedly. Hiding the funds from the system does not mean it disappeared. It was the easiest way to get you into playing your part. Now it's time to finish this. We only have 12 hours before she meets with a delegation from Luxembourg and less time before she meets with group of Ukrainians whom are coming to the rescue. They can and will reveal all transactions she has done and we will be exposed greatly for hiding funds, creating false accusations and misusing the law. It has taken 3 years to get us to a point where she has no defences. Use it wisely and quickly. We will settle each other on completion. There is more than enough for everyone involved.

Do not make the mistake of betraying us. What we did to her, we can do to you. This is not a time to develop a conscience. You have already been disloyal to her, there is nothing to go back to. Focus on completing this mission. Yes she made the money. But my colleagues and I should decide what to do with those funds. In helping us, you've enriched yourselves in ways you can never imagine. She must not get to that meeting. She must not renew her licences or pay her penalties which I am certain they are willing to cover for her. It will destroy everything we have worked to achieve.

Lastly, there is an issue of the inauguration and the bachelor list. The latter is resolved itself as our comedian has done a good job of depressing her. He also did a good job of keeping us abreast with her whereabouts and plans which thus allowed us to know what to hit. Let's remember to reward him accordingly. The first issue however, can only be resolved if you stick to your part of the plan and kill her. The mere arrival of the delegates will prove her correct and expose all of us.

Steer clear of Boeta van Zyl, he is still trying to keep her safe, albeit for his own selfish reasons.

You have my word on the safety of this email. Anyone who tries to use this against anyone herein will have the same problem she had when we promised to kill Jessica. No one will believe you.

Wipe them out. It is no longer safe to target her alone. Too much is at stake.
