

BBS Network, Inc. is engaged in the production and syndication of original live radio and web-tv talk show programming.

SINCE 2003

Founded in 2003 as Bloginservice, BBS Radio TV birthed internet interactive live radio streaming in 2004, changed its name to BBS Radio in 2005, and incorporated as BBS Network, Inc. in 2006.

BBS Network, Inc., operating under the brand "BBS Radio TV" (<https://bbsradio.com>), stands as a pioneer in the digital broadcasting industry. It was among the first global networks to offer live, professionally engineered internet talk radio broadcasts. Furthermore, BBS has been instrumental in mass syndicating remotely engineered programming, significantly shaping and defining the internet broadcasting sector.

Donald and Douglas Newsom, twin brothers and entrepreneurial visionaries at BBS Network, have produced over 200,000 hours of web-TV and radio programming for more than 1,000 hosts in the past two decades. Their extensive experience in new media not only demonstrates their deep understanding of its significance but also showcases their proficiency in shaping the landscape of digital broadcasting.

The Newsoms have handled hosts from every continent and covered almost every subject imaginable! Indeed, BBS Network, Inc., known as BBS Radio TV, has been a pioneer in the new media industry, providing interesting, relevant, empowering, and original programming that changes lives but also expands the realm of possibilities. Their passion for their work is evident, and they are deeply committed to positively impacting the world and enriching the lives of their listeners.

BBS Network is made up of hundreds of talk show hosts, dedicated to promoting love and awareness at higher levels. Most notably, many have left an indelible mark upon this earth. These people confront us with issues on a national, political, and worldwide level, that affect our conscious and unconscious personal decisions! They are informative, inclusive, interesting, and always encouraging, and best of all, they strive to raise our expectations, to create a more positive future.

The Newsoms' passion for the broadcasting industry was sparked shortly after the events of 9/11, a pivotal moment when the world seemed to turn upside down. In a period marked by radical shifts, escalating government corruption, and institutional maneuvers designed to sow division and chaos, they saw a profound need for change. During this time, technological and communication advances were accelerating, yet the narratives broadcasted on radio and TV were predominantly controlled by a select few corporations. The manipulation and distortions in the media became too glaring to overlook. It was a crucial time to foster open dialogue, to share diverse viewpoints widely, and to empower others. The Newsoms recognized that information is not just power—it is empowerment. This realization drove them to create a platform where voices could be heard freely, facilitating a reclaiming of individual and collective power.
