IV HARD NEWS

T: Happy Global Citizens' Day – talking about ending hunger by 2030 – NESARA NOW!

- R: Participation is occurring on a global level I making necessary changes: we can thank Trump as he stirs things to the max as we decided whether we will do peace or not!
- He and Kim Jon Un – what a pair: A Cheech and Chong show that is not funny!
  - Bordering on a galactic crisis
    - the yazidis [In Iraq] – the US Black Ops called ISIL, killing innocent people – courtesy of McCain, Graham and Black Ops who want to take over the Middle East

Call from Mr X

- about a long range missile launched by Iran: to tell the US and others that no one else will tell them what to do! Doing this did not violate any agreement.
- They did it because of all the ignorance of what is coming from the bully on the globe; the archonic energy of the skinwalker in the White House who is not the president and never was!

R: The only recognition R gives him is Divine Justice mixed with Divine Mercy and Divine Compassion for all life forms that have chosen a path . . .

T: the Iranian people have the Keshe technology & Mr X described it as a shield technology; it has an intelligence and creates a forcefield; if a bomb or something comes at them, it causes the bomb to implode and on implosion, the energy is sucked out of existence so no one is hurt.

R: kinda like the Guardians of the Galaxy

T: a no brainer that Keshe should have his technology in Puerto Rico yesterday

- a quake in Oaxaca, of 6.1 at 5 am this morning; created an aftershock in Mexico City so there was both a quake and an aftershock in M. City – quite a distance between.
- Are there meddlings going on? This is quake # 3 within 2 weeks.

R: Mr X – said in an enigmatic way that there are activities going on with the sun and the alignment of the stars as energies increase

- He was enigmatic: wouldn't answer if they used technologies to cause the earthquakes
- yet there are words out there that Putin is going to expose the weather warfare technology that the US is using

T: how will he get the word out in the Western media? Via RT tv? All the people on that station will tell it!!!

- Has been at least a month since Ray McGovern was on RT tv about Hillary, and that she and Debbie Wasserman-Schultz and the DNC are responsible for the hackings
- Media going further and further away from this story
- Now HRC is out with her book saying Uncle Donny was responsible for it all – that is not true either.

R: MR X today, Larry and Curly yesterday: the 13 families are on their way out, as are Bill and Hillary

Lady Di yesterday: the Rohinga refugees are finding their way to the Wesak Valley – he did not ask how they got there – it's a journey of a lifetime to get there; as you enter those energy fields, your life is transfigured, transformed

- Dodi and Di have created mystery schools in the Wesak Valley

T: the refugees are getting an education and their real life experience means they easy to teach and willing to help others.

R: On local public access station: Richard Wolff interviewed Glenn Greenwald and Chris Hedges

- discussing the absolute lies of the Grump, and the WMDs in Iraq and the stories about how supposedly Saddam spirited away Iraq's nuclear weapons to Iran – NOT THE CASE!
- THEY BOTH SAID that they are being surveilled and observed by the ABC agencies in the US – considered as potential terrorists like Julian Assange because they are telling the truth: at airports, basically have to get naked; feel like you're being pawed!

T: the archon in charge of that operation was at the UN with the Grump

- Glenn, Chris said that as they travel around, the increased surveillance and the oppression of constantly being searched – body cavities searches against your will and if you are determined to be uncooperative – sometimes people are disappeared in those circumstances : same tactics as the SS used during Nazi times

T: An April Pirate TV video about the ACLU vs Trump: there is a cognisance that is required:

- we know that we have already made this quantum break through and the light is just penetrating the darkness – every second they choose to reject the light, have resistance against the higher vibrations: there is a tsunami wave of light coming in – Ram Dass wrote a book called BE LOVE NOW.

ANOTHER THING: Betsy De Vos [Eric Prince's sister] has officially rescinded an Obama era Title 9 Protection –

- the biggest change now allows universities "to modify the standard of evidence in campus sexual assault cases" - could unfairly shield those accused of sexual misconduct

R: and there is a president who rapes women

T: WE know it is true that he has done this even while there are those who do not want to hear the story or will believe it - and for what he has done, others have done more – accountability in every sector for every single soul is required: the higher the vibration we all carry, the more beneficial to the world's transformative times

- a lot of lightworkers thought on the end of Mayan Calendar, Dec 21, 2012, there would be a magical change – it still appears to look like nothing has happened.
- The point is that as we become the change, that light we emanate from within our incarnation – and those who volunteered to incarnate in this particular time when we did not have to – meaning from the beginning of the story, those of us who remained neutral or became aware of the error along the way and actually made changes: and this can be done along the way, by choosing to learn about higher forms of energies and to use that learning to teach others – teach only love.
- In the process, with pure heartedness, that teaching can change an individual life and change everyone around us as we work with that energy and bring others in too – can be a dharma: a gift accruing in a collective manner where more and more of the folks we touch come back again with the commitment for everyone to "get it".
- Things are different right now, as the intentional reversal of this process is so ugly, so vile, so evil. For the sake of not just flippantly saying "I'll believe it when I see it" instead of grasping the implication of "I'll see it as I believe it" – that is the meaning of faith: it is not by faith alone, but by the deeds we take into the unknown. Faith is a bit intangible yet, as we have faith and take actions that, with our creative intelligence and the guidance of our angels, guides, fairies, divas, spirit guides who are all here as they always have been. [we see the changes manifest.] This is the illusion we volunteered to come into and re-connect our brothers and sisters at all different levels.

R: heard that US and Afghanistan made an agreement to mine precious minerals in Afghanistan – lithium and other rare earth elements, like element 117 that is not talked about; has been told by the Poppy Lady that the Bigfoot people, the Evas, are there to protect the land of the Buddha.

T: so it's not going to be some imaginary thing like everything will be fixed all of a sudden– even though it will be – it is still for each one of us to make choices; and there will be much more assistance as the galactic presence will be fully disclosed at the simultaneous moment of the announcement of NESARA: she's not sure who'll be on the stage at the time

R: all the realms have united against the darkness, and there are more of us than them –

- all the messages from across the planet from the legions and legions who stand beside Lord Michael and Admiral Sananda: they are not here playing games - this is real!
- Nibiru will not hit the earth today – yet they are playing with disaster capitalism as Naomi Klein describes: it's about the fear, fascination, control and how they play games with the population – with the SS: not all cops are bad as Michael Fronti says: when the police are a problem, we have to do something about it . . .

T: did he ask Mr X? Omena on Thursday got an understanding that Counsel Mueller knows he is compromised yet he has opened a doorway – Manafort will be indicted

- and many more will go to the chopping block

T: Jimmy Kimmel doesn't know what happened to Bill Cassidy – on his public publicity tour, he listed Bill's demands for a health care bill – lower premiums, no life time caps, and the new bill does none of these things

- not only did he fail the Jimmy Kimmel test, he failed the Bill Cassidy test, his own test right in front of me – he lied – so said Jimmy K, as well as the following message –
- US citizens: call your own reps – repeatedly! Speak to the health care bill
- Kimmel has an audience of about 5 million per night; he's making his show count for a lot

2017-09-20 Jimmy Kimmel~ Senator Bill Cassidy "Got Caught With His GOPenis Out" In Obamacare Replace Bill [SEE BELOW]

2017-09-21 Jimmy Kimmel~ Donald Trump Would Sign Copies Of Koran At Barnes & Noble In Fallujah To Kill Bill Named For Obama [SEE BELOW]

T: People are calling Thom Hartmann every day; people can call others reps as well as their own

- She is playing these info because the health care bill is a Nazi Bill!!!!
- if you have something like cancer, they can charge up to an extra $144,000 a year there is no way the English explanation can be passed by
- there are 305 people who have passed from the 2nd - middle - quake: 200 still missing
- McCain's courage is a worthy note: did R ask Mr X about Mr McCain? Graham is his lover and McCain said no to that bill

R: McCain is having to deal with his health conditon and supposedly it's in remission –

- he's getting treatments – he may will soon be leaving the planet due to misdeeds

T: R has heard from Mr X, Larry and Curly, and Dodi and Di that Bill and Hillary are not going to be on the planet in the vicinity of NOW
R: the Guantlet of Power has been taken from them!

T: Michelle Lyn Grisham, member of the NM legislature -

- NM is the poorest state in the union; 2,059,000 people in the entire state
- the idea is that by 2027, NM will lose $3 Billion which means all of the block payment to the state which is $200 billion less than the medicaid program uses, so the people supposed to have the services will see the money disappear: the nursing homes disappear, for example;
- and there are multitudes of other problems like the medical profession in the US are not learning how to work with the laws of nature: pharmaceuticals are killing people
- this is about reducing the human population, an
- $400 billion will be missing [from the health programs] across the entire US by 2027

Audio: On Contact – Chris Hedges – Interview with President of Namibia Hage Geingob

2017-09-24 <https://www.rt.com/shows/on-contact/404391-namibia-president-interview-economy/>

President of the Republic of Namibia Dr. Hage Geingob discusses how his country, which achieved independence from neighboring apartheid South Africa in 1990, is now fighting for justice and economic emancipation from global banks, corporations, and foreign governments seeking to extract the developing country's natural resources.

Caller: if Sananda comes back as Cosmic Christ and is no longer Admiral of the New Jerusalem, what will he be doing?

T: Ashtar becomes Admiral of the New Jerusalem; Rama becomes Ashtar, and we all move up as we are doing this collectively; this is the first time we have ever done this collectively - we have now reached a level of consciousness that we can take over from some of the jobs in the galactic forces areas from there to here

Caller: what will Sananda Do?

T: will be working in the collective of the Cosmic Christ Role – Sananda, Metatron, Mother, Michael, Maitraya, Kuthumi - things are becoming collective at that level too!

T: so good to hear questions like that, and to take the responsibility- things are not as they appear:

- sometimes when they ask Mother questions or get on AOTR and listen to what they are teaching, sees that there is not the difference there used to be: at the same time, we have to keep our hearts more and more open – it is not even fathomable to any of us how far the into our quantum field that the mind control has been planted
- for example, as there is a concept like “no more Free Will Choice”, the meaning is at a different level than we are used to thinking of it: at the level of collective consciousness and higher, the causal/angelic level - when we are at that level, we don’t have the experiment any more – we are free of the Experiment!
  - In other words, Free Will Choice is part of the experiment – at the causal level, we are in Uni-consciousness, no longer in polarity: We are All One
  - There is no more veil because we have done the work – means nothing about good or bad, it just IS.
- At that point where the inquisitiveness of who we are is embraced at the level of total surrender and merging at the highest Source level of our being and we might say EQUAL TO MOTHER – which is a big deal!
- in the realms of questioning in 3D: we are the teachers’ teachers’ teachers who have taken the risk and done it many, many times; have opened the 3rd eye so far that we have seen and known all the experience and know who they are;
- this is not down the road – the questions asked heal the rift where fear and disinformation and the negative emotions of the victim consciousness can go – only takes the twinkling of an eye – can be the result of a particular experience, even something so mundane - once there, the chore is to stay there and not look back.

T: this is from April – The Big Picture

Sam Sax sitting in for Thom Hartmann:

- Asked Richard Wolff who responded that that what gave rise to the Grump might be more straight forward than we realize: Grump is a direct result of capitalism
- In order to clear this up, capitalism has to be removed completely – that is why the entire global economy has been shut down and the other is re-booted – we’ll be flowed right into it – and galactic disclosure helps a lot!!!

Astrological Weather Report*Sat: Moon in Scorpio -Sun: moon opposite Neptune

Mon: moon goes into Sag in the am; Mercury will square Saturn exactly – remains a challenge:
 Saturn is the investigator – example was last night conversation when the difficulty of language came up – not sticking to accepted definitions

Tues: Moon Conjunct SaturnWed: 1ST QUARTER MOON

Thurs: Jupiter exactly opposite for Uranus, at 24 minutes after midnight EST - for the final time.
 Later in the day, Pluto goes direct in Capricorn at 18° ; the Jupiter-Uranus opposition is at 28° - there's a T Square forcing issues; Moon Conjuncts Pluto later at night. Pluto going direct – will take a while to see how the energies will change, but it will be a driver as we move into the autumn quarter.

Fri: Moon in Capricorn; it squares Uranus and squares Jupiter – means an extra energetic influence on the T square; Venus will be opposite Neptune

Sat: Moon into Aquarius just after midnightThe Pele Report for Sept 21, 2017

As the old order dissolves into chaos,
 A prerequisite for the new birth,
 I see Spirit's intentional restructuring
 As a footprint on Mother earth.

Let's recall that the Virgo/Pisces axis is the axis of initiation and view this time period as just that. Though the Sun will shortly move into Libra, the tone for this coming month has in some ways already been set by the new Moon at 27 Virgo and the Eclipse last month in Leo setting a 6 month vibration forward.

Initiation has always been a right of passage, testing the initiate as to his/her purpose, strength, determination and understanding. They involve the creation of intense experiences designed to bring up core issues that require new and deeper sources of power and love to surmount. These are times of initiation.

As I mention in the video, this time period is also a bit of a foreshadowing of 2018 and beyond. The upside to these initiations is that they are just that! It is also a time where Spirit is close, potent, and visible in Its effects. The footprint is testimony to existence that the creature is real, was present, and is moving. May you use these current life experiences to understand the workings of Great Mystery in a personal and real sense.. Injoy!

Reading: Mystic Momma 2017-09-19 NEW MOON in Virgo September 19th / 20th 2017~ [SEE BELOW]

T: question to R about dealing with being hemmed in

Ri: the dictator state: the elites are running wild, we are being . . .

- the number of individual resistance groups continues to grow and push for change: slowly but surely we are fighting back now: do they know that their resistance of us is futile?
- Next month, we are in Capricorn when we should find more light, more whistleblowers stepping forward and speaking up

T: the energies are quite scattered, yet there is so much energy coming from the heart

Ri: a massive re-arrangement of energies going on!

T: as we follow the positive path we are supported – it's about what we do together

Reading: Carl Boudreau

[SEE BELOW]

2017-09-20 September 2017 - Preliminary Thoughts on the Rest of the 21st Century

Ri: remembers back 5-6 years ago when he first talked of the effects of the outer planets – now we've had a few years and Uranus will continue to do its thing: it delivers Divine Will.

- Uranus transforms solar energies into our density; Pluto transforms solar energies into divine masculine, Divine feminine
- Saturn is the other major player we'll see soon – about 7 years, and Saturn gets into Aries and we will get a big boost in help.

<https://www.freeconferencecallhd.com/wall/recording?audioRecordingUrl=https%3A%2F%2Frss2941.freeconferencecall.com%2Fstorage%2FsgtHD%2Fa4Ejy%2FjNxr&subscriptionId=4492367>

Ri: Saturn goes into Capricorn just before winter solstice – now we have 3 signs for Saturn to move through to get to Aries: we'll get extra energetic support from Saturn in about 7 – 7.5 years; by then, we should be well on our way.

- When it is through in Capricorn, it goes into Pluto and then gets into Aquarius – this is a positive influence; then it goes through Pisces and brings in the Divine Feminine influence and we'll be on our way – 4-5 years. 2023
- will be interesting: Saturn moves into Capricorn which is about messing with gov't and other issues of the earth; will spend 2.5 years there; then for the next 2.5 years, goes through Aquarius and one of the effects is on everyday thinking – and the everyday thinking of the masses is going through massive change at the moment; as people become more awake and get more in touch with the heart energies and the love aspect, this will improve.
- Saturn in Sag is a yearning for something better which has been going on for about 2.5 years.
- Pluto in December; by the solstice on Dec 21st, will have only moved a couple of degrees – moves slowly because it's on the outer edge of the solar system.
- Neptune goes direct on Nov 22nd after the sun moves into Sag
- Lots of interesting things for the next 3 months, and powerful connections
  - the sun will conjunct Saturn in early December 16th just before the winter solstice
  - Sun goes into Capricorn on the 21st;
- Christmas on a Monday this year
  - and Venus will be in Capricorn: Venus goes into Sag on the last day in Nov – Dec 1 - 24th

Ophiuchus overlays that motion: goes from [The audio has far more detail about the overlay of the Ophiuchan house in relation to the 12 houses people are generally aware of] Hannakuh; Advent;

- Uranus decided not to leave Aries just yet – got up to 29*, then went retrograde on Aug 3rd and remains retro until past December and will be back in 26* Aries
- Neptune goes direct Nov 22nd – and that will be an additional forward movement, in terms of things Piscean!

Ri: 1* Libra from Dane Rudhyar – Sabian symbols

PHASE 181 (LIBRA 1°):

KEYNOTE: The immortal archetypal reality that a perfect and dedicated life reveals.

Just as the symbol for Aries 1° evoked the keynote of the entire first half of the cycle, i.e. differentiation out of the undifferentiated "Ocean of potentiality," this symbol for Libra 1° reveals to the intuitive consciousness the essential character of the second hemicycle. In the yearly cycle we have reached the fall equinox, the symbolic time -of bringing in the harvest in preparation for winter. It is the time consecrated to the seed, just as the spring equinox is consecrated to the germ, the new rise of life which in-forms the growth of individual organisms.

At this autumnal point, the drive toward individualization and self-assertion has lost much of its momentum, while a new trend is successfully and dynamically challenging its hegemony – the trend toward the formation of collectivities of individuals. But this new trend can be misunderstood if seen only superficially as the mere gathering together of individual persons. The process has a much deeper meaning, and indeed an inner source of power, for what is at stake is not merely an aggregation of separate units (simple or already complex, as in the case of "families"). At the core of this "coming together," the "descent" or externalization of archetypal realities is gradually occurring. At the Libra stage, these archetypal realities are "Forms"; at the Scorpio stage they will be "Powers." The symbol for this degree of the fall equinox thus describes a "perfect form" — the result of the metamorphosis of "worm" into butterfly, a process the symbolism of which has so often been used to indicate to man the possibility of his being transformed into "more-than-man," the transhuman being, the true Initiate, the Adept, the Perfect. The perfect butterfly is impaled by a fine dart; the symbol of "dart of wisdom" was used in Marc Jones's mimeographed course, while the original notation of what the clairvoyant had seen indicated "a butterfly made perfect by a dart through it," suggesting a process of perfection through sacrifice.

As I see it, the dart can hardly be said to have made the butterfly perfect, but it keeps it perfect by killing the living organism. The impaled butterfly is preserved by the dart which "fixes" it in perfection for a whole cycle, i.e. it makes an archetype of it. By thus escaping the normal process of dying and decay, the butterfly form (the "perfection") is kept. It is kept in the mystical Shamballah, where it is said that the Pattern of Man is kept, just as the perfect bar measuring exactly one meter is (or was) kept in a crypt in Paris, where the metric system was originally devised.

The perfect butterfly thus represents the outcome of the process of occult discipleship symbolized by the sign Virgo. From then on, a new process begins, that of collectivization; at the very core of that new process the perfect Form of Man must remain as a standard of value if this process is to be valid and meaningful.

This is the first statement in the thirteenth scene of the great ritual drama. It is an actional phase because in it the perfection of individual activity is revealed and immortalized. This is the symbolical Transfiguration; at the Mount of Transfiguration, Jesus, the Son of Man, was "impaled" by the ray of Divine Light, making of him a Son of God. It was at this very moment that he learned of the Crucifixion awaiting him. Thus the merely human individual is MADE SACRED, becoming the pure embodiment of an archetype.

Richard's translation:

- Since the beginning of the year, we've been working on ourselves and becoming more "perfect" - and now we use what we learned in the first half of the cycle with those tools we gained, and can do a better job in the second half of the cycle – which is the fall equinox!

Cameron's Titanic & Avatar – Hollywood Decoded Ep 4 PREVIEW – Jay Dyer / Jay Weidner

Jay Dyer and Jay Weidner draw a connection between The Titanic and Avatar movies by James Cameron, as an unfolding cautionary tale of rampant industrialism. Their examination of the Titanic sets up the establishment of the Federal Reserve and the corporate takeover of the world's monetary system. Thus, humanity is plunged into the depths of the Kali Yuga and it must reach out, to the stars, to continue fueling its greed induced self-collapse. Which brings us to the lush world of Avatar as the Na'vi live idyllic lives within their own golden age. As the clash of worlds and ages ensues, we learn of the dangers of technology and we are shown the way out of the collapse of our own civilization. This presentation was originally webcast September 11, 2017.

2017-09-20 Jimmy Kimmel~ Senator Bill Cassidy "Got Caught With His GOPenis Out" In Obamacare Replace Bill

by Lisa de Moraes

Jimmy Kimmel Fights Back Against Bill Cassidy, Lindsey Graham & Chris Christie
<https://youtu.be/wB5Hek7Z2b8>

Jimmy Kimmel opened his Wednesday late night show pounding Sen. Bill Cassidy for playing the Comedians are Dummies Card on CNN earlier in the day, while trying to defend his indefensible Obamacare repeal and replace plan.

"Last night on the show I took a Senator from Louisiana, Bill Cassidy to task for promising, to my face, that he would oppose any healthcare plan that allowed insurance companies to turn away people with pre-existing conditions, and any healthcare plan that had an annual or lifetime cap on how much they would pay out for medical care," Kimmel told viewers.

"He said anything he supported would have to pass what he named The Jimmy Kimmel Test – which was fine, it was good. But unfortunately, and puzzlingly, he proposed a bill that would allow states to do all the things he said he would not let them do.

"He made a total about face. Which means he either doesn't understand his own bill or he lied to me. It's as simple as that," Kimmel charged.

Senator Cassidy and his co-sponsor Lindsay Graham spent the day defending the indefensible. "This morning the Senator sat for an interview with Chris Cuomo of CNN and pulled the 'all comedians are dummies' card," Kimmel charged.

"Oh, I get it. I don't understand because I'm a talk show host, right?"

Kimmel asked Cassidy to explain which part of Cassidy's plan he does not understand. "Is it the part where you cut $243 billion from federal health care assistance? Am I not understanding the part where your state would be allowed to let insurance companies price you out of coverage for having a pre-existing condition? Maybe I don't understand the part of your bill in which federal funding disappears completely after 2026? Or maybe it was the part where plans are no longer required to pay for essential health benefits like maternity care or pediatric visits?

"Or the part where The American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Hospital Association, the American Cancer Society, the American Diabetes Association, the American Heart Association, Lung Association, Arthritis Foundation, Cystic Fibrosis, ALS, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and the March of Dimes – among many others – all vehemently oppose your bill?"

"Or could it be, Senator Cassidy, that the problem is that I do understand and you got caught with your GOPenis out? Is that possible? Because it feels like it is."

The bill Cassidy and Sen. Lindsey Graham unveiled last week is, by many accounts, the worst bill yet to repeal and replace Obamacare.

Kimmel reported he'd received a lot of support during the day from people who care about the subject, and from sick and disabled people worried about their access to health care being cut off.

"But I also got some words that were not so nice, particularly from our friends at Fox & Friends," Kimmel noted.

He cued up a clip of Brian Kilmeade saying "Sunday's Emmys may have been the lowest rated in history but that's not stopping Hollywood elites, like comedian Jimmy Kimmel, from pushing their politics on the rest of the country."

Kimmel confessed he found this comment particularly annoying because "Brian Kilmeade, whenever I see him, kisses my ass like a little boy meeting Batman.

"Oh he's such a fan. He's been to the show; he follows me on Twitter; he asked me to write a blurb for his book – which I did," Kimmel revealed. "He calls my agent looking for projects. He's dying to be a member of the Hollywood Elite. The only reason he's not part of the Hollywood Elite is because nobody will hire him to be one."

"Brian – you phony little creep," Kimmel said, addressing Kilmeade in absentia. "That will be my blurb for your next book: Brian Kilmeade is a phony little creep."

Meanwhile, Kimmel has a theory about President Trump's desperation to do away with Obamacare. Earlier in the day, Trump tweeted he'd read the bill and it's great.

"There's no way President Trump read this bill that he says is great! He just wants to get rid of it because Obama's name is on it. The Democrats should just rename it Ivankacare – guaranteed he gets on board," Kimmel snarked.

"Can you imagine Donald Trump actually sitting down to read a health care bill? It's like trying to imagine a dog doing your taxes."

Shortly before Kimmel's monologue played on the East Coast, President Donald Trump got in on the covfefe, insisting Cassidy had not lied to the ABC late-night host:

Senator (Doctor) Bill Cassidy is a class act who really cares about people and their Health(care), he doesn't lie-just wants to help people!

Round 3 of Jimmy Kimmel's Health Care Battle

<https://youtu.be/KUH0KQ1qMiw>

Jimmy Kimmel tonight tangled with President Donald Trump, as well the co-authors of the latest GOP Obamacare kill bill who, the Washington Post writes, do not understand their own bill's impact as well as the late-night host.

Again tonight, Kimmel explained he found himself in the middle of this battle after his son, Billy, had open heart surgery at age 3 days, when Sen. Bill Cassidy guested on his show to make assurances to Kimmel's audience that he failed to keep.

"The reason I had him on the show in the first place is because he started telling people that any plan he supported would have to pass what he called the Jimmy Kimmel Test," Kimmel reminded all those now bashing him for having waded into the debate.

After guesting on JKL, Cassidy co-authored the bill, with Sen. Lindsey Graham, that "most definitely does not pass that test," Kimmel said. Once again the late-night host took the time cable news networks can't seem to spare, to point out the bill: doesn't protect people from having their insurance rates jacked up for having a pre-existing condition, doesn't prevent insurance companies from putting lifetime caps on how much they will spend on a person with medical issues, and cuts hundreds of billions of dollars in health care funding.

After Kimmel's previous two monologues savaging the bill made national news, President Donald Trump got involved last night, via Twitter:

I would not sign Graham-Cassidy if it did not include coverage of pre-existing conditions. It does! A great Bill. Repeal & Replace.

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump) September 20, 2017

"Those are the key words: Repeal and Replace," Kimmel warned viewers.

"For Donald Trump, this isn't about the Graham-Cassidy bill. It's about getting rid of Obamacare, which he hates, primarily because Obama's name is on it....At this point he would sign anything if it meant getting rid of Obamacare. He'd sign copies of the Koran at the Barnes and Noble in Fallujah, if it meant he could get rid of Obamacare."

And, after Kimmel accurately accused Cassidy of not telling the truth, Trump again took to Twitter:

Senator (Doctor) Bill Cassidy is a class act who really cares about people and their Health(care), he doesn't lie-just wants to help people!

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump) September 21, 2017

Kimmel tweeted back to Trump: "That's great news Mr. President! Does that mean he'll vote against the horrible bill he wrote?" Tonight Kimmel reported he still is waiting for a response.

Meanwhile, Kimmel told viewers, "I guarantee [Trump] doesn't know anything about this Graham-Cassidy bill. He doesn't know the difference between Medicare and Medicaid. He barely knows the difference between Melania and Ivanka."

Hours earlier on Thursday, Cassidy, went on Fox News and again said Kimmel does not understand what he is talking about this time saying it's because they have not spoken in a year. That's curious because Cassidy was on Kimmel's show four months ago. And, here's probably a good place to note Washington Post has concluded, after combing through the bill, that Kimmel understands the bill's impact better than do its authors."

And, to those people who still say Kimmel is not qualified to talk about this subject, Kimmel said tonight, they "forget Bill Cassidy named his test after me!"

"I see these comments from these angry people, that say 'What qualifies you to talk about this stuff, you're a comedian – go back to being not funny,'" Kimmel said. "I feel like it's my duty to remind these people who are so concerned about my qualifications: The guy you voted for President – his job qualification? Was this: He fired Meatloaf. And you put him in the White House."

"So, I'm going to say it again, it is more important than ever: Call your senators and tell them not to gut American health care, not to turn their backs on people with pre-existing conditions. Call him or her, encourage your friends and family to call too, and let me know how it goes."

2017-09-19 NEW MOON in Virgo September 19th / 20th 2017~

<http://www.mysticmamma.com/new-moon-in-virgo-september-19th-20th-2017/>

ART by MYSTIC MAMMA

*NEW MOON* in Virgo augurs a time of deep self-healing. VIRGO is the archetype of the healer, the medicine woman, the one who is dedicated to serving her people. And yet there always comes a time when even she must retreat and give some of that healing to herself. Her connection to Source is strengthened when she goes within.

And so she allows things to fall where they may, and like leaves falling, she sees the patterns and knows what she must keep and what she must shift.

And in the shifting tides, she allows herself the time she needs to heal. She makes a healing salve out of all her worries and abides marveling the perfection within the imperfection.

Here are the MYSTIC MAMMA Astral Insights from our beloved featured luminaries. First from LEAH WHITEHORSE and her LUA Astrology:

“With five bodies now in Virgo, there is an extra strong emphasis on the qualities of this sign.

“Virgo is a mutable, Earth sign meaning that it is flexible and practical in its approach – attributes that we would do well to emulate around this lunation...”

“Mercury, ruler of this lunation is still in a conjunction to Mars... There’s plenty to shout about it seems but there’s misunderstandings afoot as Mercury has also just perfected an opposition to slippery Neptune.

“It could be difficult to trust the information coming through right now which could also make us uncertain over what action to take.

“We’re imaging, idealising, wishing and ready to implement new measures – but when it comes down to it, the Mars opposition to Neptune could dissipate energy and motivation. Efforts are scattered and it all feels too messy for precise Virgo.

“A New Moon quincunx to Uranus also adds a wired, anxious element. People’s nerves are on edge. We want change and something different but part of us is feeling helpless given Mercury’s opposition to saviour Neptune.

“It could feel like someone just took a jigsaw puzzle and threw all the pieces up in the air. Virgo’s task is to create order from chaos (opposite sign Pisces).

“The trick is that we can only work with what we know to be true and let go of the rest. Chiron may tell us that there’s pieces missing.

“Neptune then chimes in with ‘Well, if there’s pieces missing then there’s just no point doing this puzzle at all’.

“Saturn says, ‘Tough! Sit down, sort out all the edge pieces and start from there’.

“The point is that we can’t see the big picture at the moment and that’s ok. Find the edges, then continue with the blue sky. Clear your mind. Life isn’t always perfect.

“It’s okay not to know what to do. It’s not okay to give up. If you’re really stuck, clean the house, make a list, lend a hand to a friend...”

“The one release point from this challenged lunation is the sextile between the Moon and Sun with Ceres in Cancer.

“Tune in to your inner Mother and connect with that healing, nurturing energy.

“Whether it is sickness of the body or sickness of the heart, some gentle love and reassurance can go a long way towards making things better. Messy doesn’t mean broken.”

From the insightful DIVINE HARMONY:

“This New Moon is a time to focus on and commit to greater healing, wholeness, being of service and showing up to do our inner and outer work.

“Virgo is a sign of integrity and discernment...yes virgo can be perfectionist, critical and judgmental-but healthy Virgo is about discerning and clear in our vision and perception of ourselves, others and the world around us.

“This New Moon is a call to up level our game of healing, wholeness, integration and integrity!*

“The most significant aspect this lunation makes is an opposition to Wounded Healer Chiron and karmic Task Master Saturn- triggering the Saturn/Chiron square. The Saturn/Chiron square is a transit I have been calling ‘the core wound territory transit’ as it has been bringing us face to face with our biggest wounds and pain.

"Those Unconscious conditioning and patterns we keep defaulting to and finding ourselves stuck in the same karmic situations over and over again? Saturn/Chiron is putting a spotlight on them.

"Saturn reveals where we are hard on ourselves and the inner critical voice we internalized from childhood OR he reveals where we are avoiding accountability and playing rebellious child to the inner critical parent.

"Chiron on the other hand reveals where our biggest wounds and pain are: where we don't feel loved, accepted, seen, understood. Chiron is where we run from our pain and trying to spiritually bypass and avoid it OR where we fuse with our pain and become victims to our own life circumstances..."

"Virgo help us see the pieces so we can see the whole. Virgo helps us compartmentalize so we can deal with things in pieces, one at a time. Virgo help us commit to seeing all of ourselves..."

From **ROBERT WILKINSON** from his Aquarius Papers:

"...we are in a VERY energetic period due to the recent Total Eclipse! Some are being given a mantle of power, while others are finding their lower ego inadequate to prop up their illusions.

"While many things continue to be taken away, this is providing us space in our lives to adjust for better physical, emotional, and mental health.

"With so many planets in Virgo, there is a lot of work to be done. We had a lot unveiled during Mercury retrograde, and had to find new ways to look at things and different ways to do whatever needs to be done.

"Many things have radically changed the past several weeks, and we now can move forward, knowing that even as one hand takes something from us, the other hand gives us exactly what we need.

"As you know, ever since the Solar Eclipse in Pisces 'the race has begun,' and there's no time for hesitancy or unnecessary considerations. Do what needs to be done quickly and efficiently, and let the ghosts of the past flow down the time stream.

"Forgive much, let go of much, give away all you no longer need, and await the revelation to come..."

"Be the Light of your most powerful Self, demonstrating the power of your personality as you move through apparent 'crises,' and say goodbye to the past that's already gone."

And with all the critical energy that can be flying about, may we remember to be gentle with ourselves and with others who are also undergoing their own personal struggles. We must switch the focus in our minds from condemnation to blessing. And by blessing meaning praying for the person/outcome/situation to be released and resolved in the most healing outcome for all. So let's focus on the healing~~~

*NEW MOON* Blessings to all!

2017-09-20 September 2017 - Preliminary Thoughts on the Rest of the 21st Century

Carl Boudreau

There are ideas that, however much you think them through, you're never convinced that you really, really understand them. And no home matter how often you try to explain them to others, you're never convinced you've explained them well enough.

This post is about such ideas. It is one more effort to explain my ideas about the causes, the nature and the pace of change in coming decades - the rest of this century. I have ideas about these decades based on my reading of the charts, but I have yet to succeed in explaining to my satisfaction.

I have frequently written about what I have called the oligarchic alignment. (I have tried to explain this period of time in this article.) The last six signs of the Zodiac - Libra thru Capricorn - are the natural home signs of the 1%, the staff of the oligarchy. These signs govern all the major, administrative professions.

From early in the 1970s until roughly 2010, all three outer planets, - Uranus, Neptune and Pluto - were all placed in these signs. In other words, for roughly 40 years, from about 1972 to 2010, the combined resources of the three powerful outer planets and 6 influential, administrative signs - Libra thru Pisces - were predominantly in the hands of the 1%, the oligarchic class, so to speak.

For four decades, the oligarchy was empowered, in very large part, to use these energetic resources in the shaping of patterns and structures to serve their own interests. Judging by the immense imbalances of global economic and political power that resulted, they appear to have done just that.

In 2010-11 Uranus, transitioned into Aries, leaving Neptune and Pluto behind in the oligarchic alignment. Overwhelming astrological support for the 1% ended.

Aries is the first of the six signs - Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo - associated with the 99%. Thus, in 2010-11, Uranus began a continuing (42 year long) transit of the signs associated with the 99%. The Zodiaca energies had begun their long slow build up in the signs of the 99%.

Thus, in 2010-11, Uranus began a lengthy, series of disruptive, transformative aspects to the oligarchic alignment. Uranus, acting from the various signs associated with the 99%, is now turning its powerful, disruptive and transformative attentions onto the signs of the 1%.

In so doing, Uranus will inexorably, irresistibly transform the practices and policies that the 1% put in place during the 40 years of the oligarchic alignment. It will do so from the perspective and on behalf of the 99%.

During these decades, about the order established by the oligarchy during their ascendancy, during the oligarchic alignment, that bothered, oppressed and exploited the 1% will soften, adjust and vanish. Much of it will probably be turned to the advantage of the 99%.

In late 2025, in approximately 8 years, Neptune, in its turn, will join Uranus in the signs of the 99%. In approximately 2068, Pluto, too, will enter Aries and begin its transit of the signs of the 99%. Neptune will begin its own long, slow round of disruptive and transformative aspects to the patterns, etc., laid down during the oligarchic alignment.

In approximately 2068, Pluto will enter Aries. Pluto, acting from the signs of the 99%, Pluto will begin making its own, long, slow round of disruptive and transformative aspects to the patterns and policies put in place during the oligarchic alignment. Where Uranus and Neptune failed to bring change, potent Pluto almost certainly will.

As the decades of the 21st century pass, therefore, the aspects playing upon the patterns and structures put in place during the oligarchic alignment, will grow more complex, more varied, more powerful and more effective.

Beginning in roughly 2010, in the signs of the 99%, Uranus did, in fact, begin triggering persistent protests and demands for reform on behalf of the 99%. These demands were and still are often made in revolutionary, distinctly Uranian tones. However, in 2010-11, the oligarchic alignment remained too strong for quick change.

In 2025-6, Neptune will add its energies to the signs of the 99%, complementing and/or augmenting the energies of Uranus. Neptune's energies will add idealistic vision to the mix. Neptune's visionary energies will powerfully inspire and motivate the 99% and introduce high levels of flexibility into our thinking.

Neptune's energies, powerful solvents, will also dissolve oligarchic policies, patterns and structures. Neptune's energies will actively loosen the oligarchic grip on economic and political power and further inspire the 99% to reshape the world.

Astrological cycles are all but maddeningly combined and subtle. They include innumerable complex twists, turns and variations. They tell, or often seem to tell, fascinating stories. However, describing and analyzing them in detail can be a deeply challenging task that we needn't take up now.

For roughly forty years, between 1972 and 2010-11, the plans of the oligarchic class, the 1%, enjoyed the sustained and sustaining support of all three powerful outer planets, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto.

This support has begun to drop away and will continue to drop away as the 21st century wears on. Astrological influences will distribute themselves more evenly between the signs of the 1% and the 99%.

While the oligarchic alignment was in force, support for oligarchic policies and programs was quite robust. The oligarchy seemed like bedrock economic and political reality. Resistance typically proved futile.

With Uranus in Aries and Neptune headed the same way, that is no longer true. As the 21st century wears on, with Uranus and Neptune, and eventually Pluto, swinging over to support the 99%, existing oligarchic principles, practices programs and institutions will increasingly lose traction. Resistance will become more effective. Demands for reform will become more effective.

The current oligarchic bedrock of political and our economic reality will soften and shift. Resistance will no longer seem so futile or reform so unlikely.

Politics will no longer be so rigidly, stubbornly and predictably partisan. Increasingly there will be dialogue and reciprocity between the 1% and the 99%.

But, dear readers, this is going to take a long time. It's going to unfold slowly. And it's going to be complicated. To make the change we need to make in the world, we are going to have to make change in ourselves and what these changes need to be will only become apparent over time.

2017-09-22 "His Laughter was a Battle Cry": Thousands Celebrate Comedian & Human Rights Legend Dick Gregory

AMY GOODMAN: Ayanna Gregory, daughter of the late Dick Gregory, singing at Dick Gregory's Celebration of Life last Saturday. Yes, this is Democracy Now!, democracynow.org, The War and Peace Report. I'm Amy Goodman.

This past Saturday, thousands gathered at the City of Praise Family Ministries in Landover, Maryland, to celebrate the life of legendary comedian and human rights activist Dick Gregory, who passed away August 19th at the age of 84.

In the early '60s, Dick Gregory became one of the most popular comedians in the country, paving the way for generations of African-American comedians and performers. He was the first African-American comedian to sit on the couch of The Tonight Show, then hosted by Jack Parr.

As his popularity grew, so did his activism. In 1967, Dick Gregory ran for mayor of Chicago against the infamous Richard Daley. He was a close friend of the Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. And in 1968, Dick Gregory ran for president against Richard Nixon.

He also became well known for his hunger strikes for justice. In 1967, Dick Gregory began a public fast, starting Thanksgiving Day, to protest the war in Vietnam. Forty days later, he broke his fast with a hearty glass of fruit juice. He weighed 97 pounds. In the summer of 1968, he fasted for 45 days as a show of solidarity with Native Americans. The following summer, he did another 45-day fast in protest of de facto segregation in the Chicago public schools. In 1970, Gregory went 81 days without food to bring attention to the drug problem in America. Beginning in 1971, he went nearly three years without solid food, again to protest the war. During that fast, he ran 900 miles, from Chicago to Washington, D.C. During the Iran hostage crisis, Dick Gregory traveled to Tehran in an effort to free the hostages, and traveled to the north of Ireland to advise hunger-striking IRA prisoners. In his campaign against hunger, he traveled to Ethiopia more than 10 times.

More recently, his face appeared in newspapers across the country for his community action approach to investigate allegations behind CIA connection with drugs in the African-American community. He camped out in dealer-ridden public parks and rallied community leaders to shut down head shops. He protested at CIA headquarters and was arrested.

Throughout his life, Dick Gregory has been a target of FBI and police surveillance, and he was virtually banned from the entertainment arena for his political activism.

Well, Saturday's six-hour celebration of Dick Gregory featured passionate speeches and musical tributes. The program booklet also included letters from former President Barack Obama, the National Newspaper Publishers Association, the NAACP and the Congressional Black Caucus. We turn now to some of those who gathered to remember Dick Gregory. We hear from the children of the legends Martin Luther King Jr., Richard Pryor, Malcolm X and Medgar Evers—their children. We'll also hear from Congressmember Maxine Waters. We begin with Reverend William Barber, president and senior lecturer of Repairers of the Breach.

REV. WILLIAM BARBER: To anyone who thinks justice—injustice is final, the joke's on you. Psalm 37:12 and 13 says, "The wicked plot against the godly; they snarl at them in defiance. But the Lord just laughs, for he sees their day of judgment coming." Dick Gregory knew this. He was a free man, never lost his humanity.

He was a political and comedic satirist of the highest order. One writer said that "Humorist-activist Dick Gregory was a man of many words whose fighting spirit helped transform ... America." He "was known for his off-the-cuff, no-holds-barred humor. He could captivate any crowd with his cool but passionate demeanor." He said that "He openly refused to shy away from stinging subjects, but often reminded people that humor was not enough." It was a vehicle, but not enough. He said, "Humor can no more find a solution to race problems than it can cure cancer. We didn't laugh Hitler out of existence," he once said.

"In a time when dissenting opinion," this writer said, "on race and discrimination could put a literal target on your back, Gregory wasn't just peddling funny. He said it like he saw it, but then he did it, marching for voting rights ... performing at benefits for civil rights groups. He was even shot in the leg while serving as a peacemaker during the 1965 Watts riots in Los Angeles." I love that. Gregory once said about racism—Brother Gregory, he said, "Whole lots of Americans got that attitude, and we tolerate it because you can hide your feeling behind policies. That's why we've got to work to flush this whole thing out." Gregory understood that racism was far more than whether or not you had a black friend.

His laughter was a battle cry. His jokes were not merely for entertainment and money, but for empowerment and movement building. His laughter and his comedy was a bold critique. His satire was fearless and bold as he challenged America's original sins of genocide and racism and war. He boldly went where other comedians refused to go. But his comedy was not only a battle cry and a bold critique, his comedy and his laughter was a balm in Gilead. It helped to heal the wounds and the soul's scars of slavery, Jim Crow, the wounds caused by the violent vestiges and dehumanizations of racism and poverty and war. His comedy helped us live through and make it through the psychic trauma. He was a genius. He was brilliant. His comedy was not mere buffoonery. It gave us backbone.

And when you listen to Dick Gregory's comedy, you were not hearing a performer, but a prophet. You know the prophets of the Bible were political satirists. When Jeremiah put iron yoke around his neck to show the nation how foolish it was to do wrong, he was being a comedic satirist. It was comedic, it was satirical genius, when Jesus said to the hypocrites of his day, "When you try to be religious on the outside, but you hurt people on the inside, it's just like having graves that you make real white, but inside of them they're full of dead men's bones." When Jesus, in his day, said to the hypocrites, "You try to be religious, but you leave undone love, mercy and justice." That's comedic genius. And Dick Gregory was prophetic.

In fact, I want to channel my inner Dick Gregory. If Dick was commenting today, he might just say, "You know, president kissed black babies in Texas the other day. And some say he's not a racist or a white supremacist. Well," Dick might say, "we don't need to remember the Alamo. We need to remember the okey-doke." Because when you kiss a black baby in Texas while you're trying to take babies' healthcare in D.C.; when you kiss a black baby in Texas, but you're stealing their voting rights in D.C.; when you kiss a baby or a brown baby in Texas, but you're stealing their immigrant rights in D.C.—that is the okey-doke.

Or—or if I was to channel my inner Dick Gregory, I can hear him saying to some parts of white America, "We poor black folk and white folks has better come together and stop voting for these people lying to you about tax cuts and this extremism, when all they're going to do is give more tax cuts to the greedy. You better learn how to work with black folks and brown folks, because when they get all your money and give it to the corporation, and you lose your jobs and can't pay your light bill, just remember, we all black in the dark." I'm just saying.

Dick Gregory—Dick Gregory's comedy was prophetic. It cut to the truth, challenged lies, exposed racism as a form of societal insanity and made a fool of Jim Crow. He wasn't performing, y'all. He was preaching. He made you want to leave the comedy club and get in the fight for justice.

ANNOUNCER: When our mothers and fathers decide to change the world, and they do, their places in history are cemented, and they're among our most honored and revered legends. Picking up the mantle to continue the fight for justice are the children of the way makers and freedom fighters we hold so dear. So please put your hands together to welcome Rain Pryor, the daughter of Richard Pryor.

RAIN PRYOR: I am honored to be here and share in this day of celebration of our newest ancestor, Baba Dick Gregory. I remember the first three books my father ever gave me: Revolutionary Suicide, Huey P. Newton; Malcolm X; and Nigger. I was to read them and understand them well. Today, I can feel the ase of our ancestors. I can feel the ase of his family. I can the ase of all the admirers that are here. Baba Dick Gregory, prolific activist, wielding truth like kings wield swords, his words poignant, funny, painful, awakening, joyous, like that of ancient griots who float on ancestral drums heard in the rhythm of our hearts.

Baba Gregory was a part of my prior life, since I was old enough to understand and listen with a whole heart to the stories that made our eyes water and our sides split from masterful and master-filled lips that poured out truth libations, truths that were soul food, truths that were a map so we could live by their words. Baba Gregory would tell me, "Drink truth wisely, to choose your words like the great ancestral wordsmiths without getting drunk on its lies, told about us and told about them. Be who you say. It don't matter what the theys have to say. Be your purity."

So, today, as we honor our newest iconic ancestor and stand with the Gregory family, let us all remember what the real meaning of carrying the legacy means. Carrying the legacy is not for us to become. It's not for us to morph into. It's not for us to imitate their greatness. The legacy is to always speak our highest truth and become better than their greatness, better than what they carved out, etched and breathed into this life. It is to recall their spirit and those of the ancestors and keep them lifted in our actions as we become the change they sought, as we become the words that they wrote. Legacy is what runs through our veins and every manifestation that we touch. As Baba would have wanted, let us celebrate and raise up his living legacies, so that they can keep growing their wings. And as we say in my tradition, when magic touches both Earth and sky, aseyo.

ANNOUNCER: Reena Evers, daughter of Medgar Evers.

REENA EVER-S-EVERETTE: Though they were not blood brothers, my father and Dick Gregory were brothers of the spiritual part. They connected on the intellectual level. They connected emotionally, especially when he came to our home in Jackson, Mississippi. And welcome back, Mark, if you ever go back to Jackson.

I remember the times of heated discussions and peals of laughter, because my father had a wicked sense of humor, and Dick Gregory brought out every wicked strain he had. And I just remember there was one time that they had a heated discussion over the N-word and where it was appropriate and how to use it and how to own it or disown it.

I found out later, in my twenties, when at one function that we attended with Dick Gregory, he came up to me and said, "Girl." And I said, "I'm here. I'm here." "Come here. Sit down." "Yes, sir." "Sit down. Come here. Y'all just leave us alone." Because other people were around. And he said, "I want to tell you about your dad. And I want to tell you the promise I made him. I'm your godfather." And I said, "What?" He said, "I promised him I would protect you, and I would help you move up in life. And that's not moving up financially. That's spiritual. That's understanding what humanity is all about." So, I have special memories of laughter, but always of knowledge, always of feeling from the heart, determination to make things right.

MARTIN LUTHER KING III: He's been a friend, really, to a lot of us. But he was a mentor to me, like a father figure, having lost my father at 10 years old, not having an opportunity to have adult conversations, but having the opportunity to have many with Dick Gregory. Many of those words, those deeds, I will never forget.

I think it's very interesting that when Dick Gregory transitioned on that day in August, that on that same day, in the state where his children were raised and wife lives, in Massachusetts, there was the largest demonstration for peace and justice and human rights, on the day that he went home to live with God. I think it's very interesting that just yesterday in the city of St. Louis, where Dick Gregory was born, that there were protesters protesting about the death of an African American who had been killed by police. And what probably went unnoticed was most of those protesters were white Americans. Even they realize that injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere.

ANNOUNCER: Ilyasah Shabazz, the daughter of Malcolm X.

ILYASAH SHABAZZ: On behalf of my five sisters, I am humbled and honored to be here with you on this special day, as we celebrate the life of this extraordinary man, Baba Dick Gregory. Much like our fathers, Dick Gregory stood up to the power structure to reclaim truth and justice for his people. And when it was time to clarify who took Brother Malcolm's life, it was Dick Gregory who rose to the occasion. And when it was time to clarify who assassinated Dr. Martin Luther King, it was Dick Gregory who rose to the occasion. He raised his voice for Malcolm and Dr. King and Medgar Evers and all of the others who were slain by bullies, by bigots, because they could not do so for themselves. When this new generation of powerful voices reminded the world that black lives matter, it was yet again Baba Dick Gregory who stood by them and spoke truth to power, whether you liked him or not.

We know that Dick Gregory was a comedian, an intellectual, and we know that he was funny. But what was so extraordinary about him is his willingness to share a story, but not just any story, an engaging story that informs, entertains and empowers his listeners. It was his ability to criticize us because he loved us. And like my father, he saw himself in us, misinformed and miseducated.

And so, shortly after my mother passed away in 1997, my sisters and I attended a gathering with distinctive African-American leaders, Maya Angelou, Aunt Coretta, Dick Gregory amongst them. And I was sitting quiet, and Dick Gregory came over to me and started talking. He said, "Ilyasah, have I ever told you about my magic glasses?" He said, "One day I was just walking in the forest, minding my own goddamn business, and I saw something glistening in the grass. So I bent down to get a closer look, and it looked like magic. It was a pair of glasses that illuminated light. But before I could touch these eyeglasses," he said, "a spirit surrounded me. And the spirit said, 'Dick, don't pick up those glasses, because if you do, you'll see images that will consume you, pains and injustices your stomach will not contain. Your heart will pound through your head, and there will be no turning back. Criminal sins of injustice committed against humanity.' It said, 'Looking through these glasses will change the course of your career and require you to act and share the gospel.'"

Dick Gregory explained that meeting my father acted as a lens, which identified what he could do in this quest. You see, before Malcolm's life was taken from us, he said, at the heart of our plight was not race, but economic injustice. And Dick Gregory said, "We must ensure the economic system is just and fair, or the masses of our people will continue to remain trapped and lingering on the periphery of economic justice and opportunity."

ANNOUNCER: The inimitable Congresswoman Maxine Waters.

REP. MAXINE WATERS: We're all here to celebrate Dick's life and to pay tribute to his extraordinary contributions, not only to his family and his friends, but to our society, to this country, to the world. And today, you have all heard over and over again about all of his tremendous and awesome talent. You've heard about his genius. You've heard, of course, and you know about his civil rights advocacy, his politics, his humor, his wisdom, vision and uncanny ability to dissect personalities, events, national and international problems and occurrences.

I have sat with Dick for hours, and he would come with stacks of newspapers from all over the world. And we would talk—no, he would talk, and I would listen. And he would explain to me what was really going on in the world, in his own fashion. And he taught me to look twice at people. He taught me to pay attention, because he said, "You can't always pay attention to what they say. It's what they do."

And so, I listened, I paid attention. And because of that, it has brought me to a time and place in my life where I've taken off the gloves. I've decided that I have no fear. I've decided that I don't want to be safe. I'm not looking for who likes me and who does not like me. It's time for all of us to walk in the walk of Dick Gregory. Did you like him? Did you love him? Did you care about him? If you liked him, if you loved him, if you care about him, you've got to stop being weak. You've got to stop speaking that which you don't mean. You've got to stop skinning and grinning. It's time to stand up and deal with the problems of this country.

AMY GOODMAN: Congressmember Maxine Waters, speaking Saturday at the City of Praise Family Ministries in Landover, Maryland, as she addressed thousands, among so many others, at the celebration of the life of legendary comedian and human rights activist Dick Gregory, who passed away on August 19th at the age of 84. This is Democracy Now!, democracynow.org. Among those who honored him, Stevie Wonder.

2017-09-20 Over 50 countries sign the nuclear ban treaty

Over 50 countries sign the nuclear ban treaty

On Wednesday 20 September, the new Treaty for the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons officially opened for signature, and responsible countries from around the world started signing up. Brazil was the first country to sign the Treaty, followed by over 50 other countries representing all regions of the world: from Africa, Europe, South-America to the Pacific.

Secretary General Mr. Guterres of the United Nations opened the ceremony, noting the important role civil society had played in making the treaty happen. Beatrice Fihn, executive director of ICAN, represented civil society. She remembered the victims of the use and testing of nuclear weapons, noting that this treaty gives them a voice. She also recognized the efforts of the core group of countries and civil society in achieving the treaty: "Groundbreaking steps forward do not start with consensus agreement ... someone has to be brave and lead."

The threat of nuclear weapons is all over the news right now. Donald Trump's threats to "totally destroy" North Korea if they do not end their nuclear weapons programme are not the only nuclear threats there are also nearly 15,000 weapons scattered around the world in the arsenals of eight other countries. Still, for the first time, since, maybe the 1980s people are scared about nuclear weapons. They should be.

Nuclear weapons are terrifying. A blinding flash, a burning wind, the sound of a thousand thunderstorms, a cry for water too poisoned to drink, for help that isn't coming, only to end by begging for death. Those are the realities of nuclear weapons.

But, responsible governments are taking action to end the nuclear weapons threat. Those that sign the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear weapons recognise that the risk of nuclear weapons is too high, and that the only way to protect anyone from getting nuked is to get rid of nukes altogether.

This treaty doesn't solve every nuclear weapons problem, but it does start dealing with the root of the problem.

As long as having nuclear weapons is considered useful, no one will want to get rid of them (and in fact, more people will want to get them). The new treaty reinforces nonproliferation commitments, while at the same time taking away the political legitimacy attached to nuclear weapons.

Richard Nixon reportedly walked around the White House claiming that he could kill 70 million people with the push of a button. That should be illegal, and thanks to the responsible governments of the world, it now is.
