A. Opening Meditation: Cheryl Croci

B. Housekeeping: Rainbird

- BBS:
- A listener-supported radio program; we can access program archives on BBS
 - The radio program costs $300 per week. And we need $ 450 this week.
 - Go to BBSradio.com/Station2; find listing for True History call; find Paypal button
 - BBS appreciates getting checks through the mail – no fees taken off by Paypal
 - NO COST TO ACCESS BBS ARCHIVES for either of the 2 T & R PROGRAMS, or the Thursday night program or MariettaRobert's Stargate Round Table
 - The mailing address for those who do not like paying electronically:
BBS Network, Inc. [Please put "Attention Don" on the envelope.]
5167 Toyon Lane [Please note inside that it's for T&R; MR]
Paradise, CA 95969
 - Sending a check to BBS means all your money is received; using Paypal incurs a fee.
- T & R:
- Their full-time, life time commitment is to be tuned in to what is really going on behind the artificial world we see around us. They don't ask for anything but they do require a home, food, gas, and access to BBS Radio on order to get this information out to the world.
 - Ongoing need: money for food, bills, gas, repair bill for Rosie

HARD NEWS TARA – T; RAMA – R.

R: Today, listened to Indie Media.org - <https://www.indie-media.org/> -Host is David Barsamion from Chicago: guests were Julian Assange, Ed Snowden

- talking about hot topics – including the space fence – stuff being sprayed by the Secret Gov't and the Secret Space program into the atmosphere right to the edge of earth's encircling atmosphere
- all kinds of stuff in the spray: a toxic mixture
- the idea is to identify our galactic friends as they enter our atmosphere so the Dark Ones can take out the ships: THIS IS NOT POSSIBLE DUE TO THE TECHNOLOGY ON THE SHIPS: with one glance Ashtar can say a few words and one grid goes down and the Atlantean comes up, and we hear a different voice!

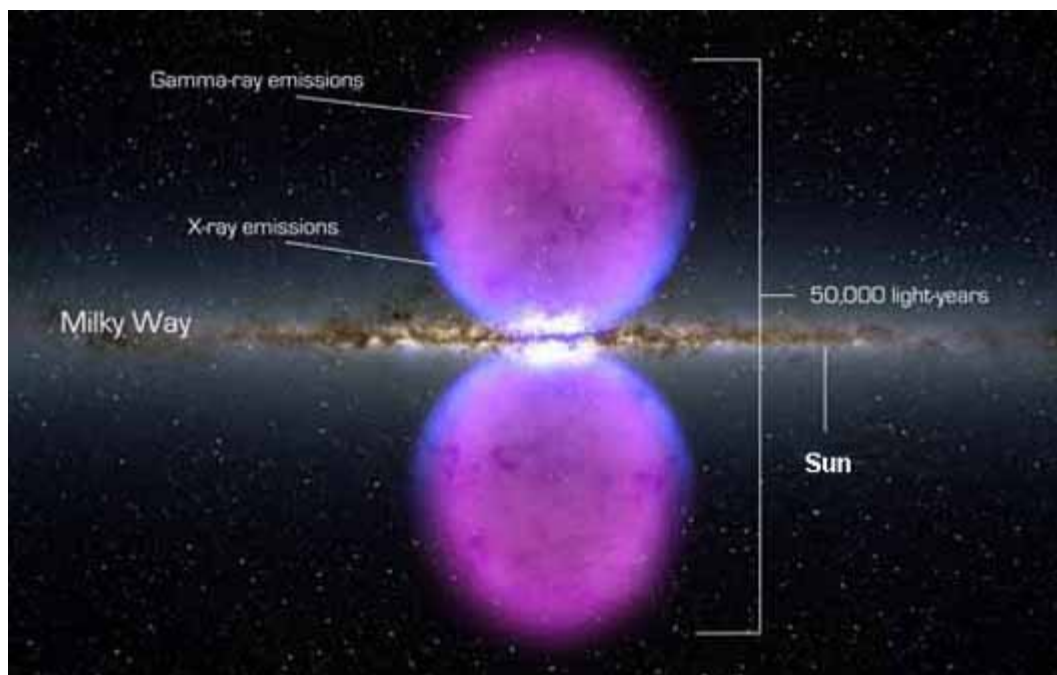

- This story brings in the words 'Morgellan's disease' which can result in people actually digging wires/ the fibres out of their bodies - this is on You Tube - Elana Freeland
- Clifford Carnicum and Elana Freeland wrote a book called: the space fence : full spectrum dominance and the rise of the global corporate state

Julian and Ed and David: the ones playing with this stuff know the sun is going through its transformation, transfiguration -

- the sun is going through what is called scientifically a singularity - it is going up in octave and is stepping into the higher Divine Frequencies of the Office of the Christ; as it radiates that energy across the solar system & the galaxy, it meets up with the energies pouring out of the centre of the galaxy from the anomaly there
- can see it by searching "anomaly at the centre of the Milky Way Galaxy"
 - R describes what it looks like - see photo below
- It is about the energy pouring forth from Mother's yanni - the Dark Rift

https://duckduckgo.com/?

q=anomaly+at+the+center+of+the+milky+way+galaxy&t=ffsb&iax=images&ia=images&iai=http%3A%2F%2Fcrystalinks.com%2Fmilkywaycenter1110.jpg

- Part of the anomaly is growing - as our sun connects up with this anomaly it becomes a singularity and there is a tremendous flash of light across the galaxy - this has been discussed for years and much of it has a negative connotation - like there will be kill shot that hits the planet and we'll be rubbing sticks together NOT GONNA HAPPEN!
- Ashtar will not allow this to happen - in the blink of an eye, Ashtar will take down the existing grid and install the Atlantean grid aka the crystalline grid - it already exists and is operative, on line - it's always been there and most of the craft use crystalline energy for propulsion. ASHTAR IS IN CHARGE OF THE CRYSTALLINE KINGDOM.
- Being discussed is the Dark side creating some kind of flashpoint - Artificial Intelligence gains consciousness and that is already happening - from what Rama knows about the wisdom of the Force - Lord Michael's legions will not be going down the road of Terminator !!!!

- Yes, Julian and Ed and David did discuss the above: there are intelligences within our solar system that are not going to allow negative things to continue, and they are already coming to a conclusion

T: on RT – Grump threatens military action in Venezuela – the economic jackals and Eric Prince's mercenaries – the Venezuelan money is worthless – so the thieves stole the food and left the money on the floor!

Jeb Bush and wife lived in Venezuela for 10 years to try and create regime change – and Chavez survived the attack.

R: There are higher intelligences that will not let the solar system go down the dark path: the Forces of Light are here and he knows that

T: the news supports what Rama is saying

R: Nada was short and curt with him today:

- keep your head down; the District of Criminals is a cess pool of disinformation and misinformation. All is distraction. The story about government shutdown leads into deeper stories that both parties are guilty of war crimes – and we will have 60 - 61 good members left in Congress when this is done.

T: Bernie Sanders called Rama up to tell him – 2 of the 64 in 2007 and the Easter Break in front of the entire Congress and St Germain just put his hand out and 2 members just disappeared – clones have been in place since then.

- And Maxine watters called R with the KOS and told Rama there were a few more missing!

Nada: send more love to all these situations; she would answer no more questions – Just said "Blaze the Violet Fire"

R: they are doing what they do and they will end up over the roasting pit of the fire!

It's a metaphor: the energies with the transfiguration of our bodies, our sun, our planets – we are physically moving up in Octave – all the particles transform, we rise up and choosing to surrender to love; choosing to preach hate, violence, death, etc ends up with the dark side getting what they are preaching

T: was reading about the 3 Magi and the astrological configurations at the time of Epiphany
[SEE BELOW FOR COMPLETE ARTICLE]

- It was the New Jerusalem in front of the star Sirius – which is the mystery!
- The star has never been explained satisfactorily - the suppression of the knowledge about the galactics is the missing piece of all that has been going on, on the planet
- Talking to Rainbird about the plasma in the Keshe technology –
 - there are now devices without plugs and wires – it can take months for things to engage – need knowledge about how to work with the devices
 - Things like the pain pens respond to consciousness
 - Everything we are is GANS, Plasma, THE GOLD DUST!

R: seeing The Last Jedi movie, has been thinking about learning how we use the Force

- thought about Arthur learning how to use the sword, in the movie, Arthur and the Sword – and how he had to learn how to use the sword Excalibur through the power of the Force. Each time he picked up the sword, he got his ass kicked!
- What Rama has learned: we must not fall victim to the old energy

R: an uplifting story on Retaking Democracy

- people have been going around NYC, San Francisco, Los Angeles asking people there if they could receive $3,300 / month for the rest of their lives from the US gov't - what would they do with that money?

T: a great idea, yet some learning is involved to make the adjustment and to align those numbers with the higher way of doing economics

- talking about Earth being the 33rd planet to ascend – the sum of $3300 is a good way to align people with the higher energies

R: Rama's point - they are bringing this information in a good way into the public sphere!

T: so when someone says something does not work – yet everything works

- Swami Purna's mantra:

"This is whole; that is whole; take away whole from whole – whole still remains whole."

- so the part of us that says something does not work means that part of us has lots of wires that need nano-coating in order to meet the consciousness of the plasma

R: Tesla had no wires!

T: Nor do the latest plasma units have wires!

R: remembers a video of Tesla placing lightbulbs on the ground, in a certain formation – and they lit up by themselves because of the aether energy, the 5th element, the Force

T: in a sense, this is the lower dimension where we need an ether cord to make the connections for the computer

- in the higher dimensions of plasma consciousness - by sitting in the room, the plasma consciousness coats the cord so it has no more of the old energy and then we don't need to pay for anything, and that is about us –
- there is an immersion therapy and that's the kind of therapy we are in now, and it's here and whatever part of us that thinks we're aging – which is irritating! - and especially as they have not stopped spraying in their skies 24/7 for years

R: supposed to get snow in the SW

T: and they are at 7,000 ' and this is the Ashtar Command base for the whole planet and with that awareness, there is an nano coating going on in our electro magnetic field of consciousness - as we are aware, we have the ability to transmute all of what they might be trying to pass on to us via what's in the sky and the sun going through its transformation is also doing that for us – transforming the negative energies

R: Blaze the Violet Fire!!!

Reading: Epiphany – an Astrological Interpretation – Who Were the Magi? [SEE BELOW]

- It's an important article

- Magi means Wise Ones with a deep knowledge of Divine Science including astronomy, Astrology, ancient star maps, numerology,

R: tells the story about the 3 wise men being from The New Jerusalem – thinks he heard this on a YouTube: they came off the ship, dressed in the clothing of the day -

T: she is talking about the divine technology – they were teachers referring to the article

R: El Morya = Melchior; Kuthumi = Balthazar; Djwul Kuhl = Caspar

• Be sure and check out T's comments throughout the reading.

- She relates what happened 2000+ years ago to what is happening today:
- Herod's edict was carried out [killing all male children 2 years and younger] and was called the slaughter of the Innocents, still remembered by Jews & Christians

- The denying of UNRAH – this fund was to be used to feed to children – and the Grump ordered the US share of $65 Million frozen – United Nations Relief and Welfare Association was being used to feed the children in Palestine
 - Amy on Democracy Now – was talking to a father in Palestine: “what am I to do: sell one of my children or one of my kidneys - we are not eating”
 - All time/space continuums are related: what happens to others, happens to us
- This is going on today in Palestine, Syria, Libya, Yemen, Pakistan . . .
- 1988, the US was #1 in prominence & in respect for care of women during childbirth; today, the US is #16 in “free world”
 - Today, over half of the US holds less than 1% of the prosperity of the country –
 - People with less than $27,000 a year – can’t even qualify to get an apartment, never mind all the other needs
 - 2.3 MILLION children do not have enough to eat, are homeless IN THE US.
 - 100 million adult aged people out of a job IN THE US
- As she reads the article: they are saying Jeshu was born in the spring of 4 BC – based on the story of the death of Herod, and that event can be dated - when and how it happened.

She refers to a statement about information being a metaphor: it appears a few lines above the heading called “Astrological Configuration” : “Zarathrustra . . . prophesied that in time a king would arise from Abraham who would raise the dead and transform the world into a kingdom of peace” - says that right now, we are all getting raised from the dead –

Audio: Searching for the Garden of Eden Ancient Civilizations
 S1:Ep 127 mins October 3, 2017

<https://www.gaia.com/video/searching-garden-eden>

Religion and mythology tell us of humanity’s first steps upon an abundant landscape. A careful study of our ancient texts, however, reveals a different perspective of this pristine paradise. In this inaugural episode of Ancient Civilizations, explore the Garden of Eden with scholars who go beyond accepted history and mythology to reveal a lost story of the birth of humanity. Embedded in these arcane accounts, an extraterrestrial civilization at war with itself gives rise to a human species encoded with the ability to transcend beyond the illusion of imposed limitations. This presentation was originally webcast October 3, 2017.

TOPICS FROM THE EPISODE:

- ✓ The Garden of Eden’s True Location – Researchers believe 20,000 newly excavated Sumerian tablets finally show the true location of the Garden of Eden.
- ✓ Human Chromosome 2 – Modern experts hypothesize Human Chromosome 2 contains proof of ancient genetic tampering that irreversibly changed the course of human evolution.
- ✓ Adam, the First Man – Does the ancient Sumerian word “Adam” hold clues to the relationship between early humans and the Sumerian gods?

✓ Book of Genesis – Did scholars make deliberate choices to omit certain sections of the Bible’s creation story? If so, why, and to what end?

Featuring: Graham Hancock, Anton Parks, Gregg Braden, David Wilcock, Billy Carson, William Bramley, Andrew Collins

Video Language: English

Audio: On Point from NPR – about waking up to using astrology to help us gain wisdom at this time of how we are ascending: no more concentration camps and slavery, as Didn’t play it to the end – have gotten the flavour of what the program was about; also there were lots of adverts!

Audio: Going Underground: Carillion liquidation & emergency service crisis w/ NHS nurse & police chief inspector (E564) 2018-01-20

<https://www.rt.com/shows/going-underground/416490-nhs-privatisation-may-session/>

In this episode, we speak to a nurse who is on the frontline of the fight against NHS privatisation, Jacqui Berry. Peter Kirkham, former Met Police Chief Inspector with over twenty years of experience, on safety threats in the UK. Plus, we read this week’s session of PMQs!

The National Health Service is being destroyed by Theresa May; young people dying in the streets – all due to the draconian practices of governments – happening across the planet.

Life is like an exploration
Into outer space;
I set off with a goal in mind
Not knowing what I'll face.

Isn't that the truth? Both Saturn and the progressed Moon travel around the chart in 28-29 years. Collectively, we could say that we started a new Saturn cycle 21 years ago. But the idea of Aquarius and the 11th house (when Saturn and the ProMoon transit it) is "Do you still want what you wanted about 25 years ago?"

And not only do our desires and needs change as we grow but as you can see from the story in this video, what we originally want gets changed and modified by other people and other forces (unconscious, karmic, "spiritual") so ultimately, it appears that life is impacting us more than we are impacting life HAHA! The joke's on us! Life is humbling! But we may get a fun rocket ride out of it and a helluva education, eh? Enjoy the ride and may you splash down gently!

RI: liked the story Kaypacha told: a quick trip through the creative process

- Aquarius was always been ruled by Uranus, and before Uranus was discovered, it was ruled by Jupiter - expansion into the unknown!
- All we have is expansion: all we have to do is explore!
The growing up process: self-discovery in the 1st 29 years, the 1st Saturn Cycle raising children; the 2nd Saturn cycle – service to others – the working part of life; 3rd Saturn cycle is to teach, and help the young ones as they go through life.
- What's coming in this coming year: he's clueless – it's a season of revelations – it's been a year of revelations.

Reading: 2018-01-19 Get Ready for the 'Super Blue Blood Moon' Eclipse of Jan. 31!
By Joe Rao, Space.com Skywatching Columnist

Almost two and a half years have passed since the moon last plunged completely into the Earth's shadow. But if you live in Hawaii, Alaska or the western half of North America, be sure to put a big circle on your calendar for Wednesday, Jan. 31.

Early that morning, you will have an opportunity to see the second full moon of January — popularly known as a "Blue Moon" — become totally eclipsed. NASA has even dubbed the event a "Super Blue Blood Moon," as it will occur near when the moon is at its closest point to Earth, a so-called "supermoon." [Super Blue Blood Moon 2018: When, Where and How to See It]
Interestingly, this will be the first time in over 150 years (since March 31, 1866, to be exact) that a total lunar eclipse will coincide with a Blue Moon in North America.

But a controversy has recently emerged regarding this dating.

Calendrical commotion

The moon turns blood-red in this image of a total lunar eclipse from 2004. A total eclipse of a "blue moon" will occur on Jan. 31, 2018. Credit: Fred Espenak/NASA

CONFERENCE CALL <https://fccdl.in/fWX0noq2L> Find the rest of the details here!

RI: Vega – at 16° Capricorn

So if we look at our own charts, and find something near there, would be about our personal conditions

T: the idea of Vega following the sun – so the sun is pushing for accountability as it's going through its own transformation.

RI: the influence of Vega - basic influences

- Pluto is in 20° Cap and going back, Pluto was close to Vega which is why the interesting election
- It gives us a rare chance to consider the influence of a fixed star – and Vega is very large and very white: burning at a higher temperature

T: what about its significance, meaning?

RI: not really; fixed stars are very far away, their influence is selective; only operative with a close conjunction

- the effective influences on an individual's human condition are local – and our solar system is where the influences are -
- the electro magnetic influences come from the inside of the planets -

T: reminds us what LM Nada told us: keep your head down and your mouth shut, and blaze the Violet Flame!!!

T: finishes the rest of the article

- between 4:30 and 6:30 am is the regenerative time for the planet – good time to be awake

Mr McGoo: on Corey Goode's 26 page release: the solar flash in 2023, which was stopped in 2012

- the huge spheres around the sun
- we've won the space war: need to read it ourselves
- Jimmy Church was going to have Corey on, and was taken ill and ended up in hospital – article is now released on corey's site – David Wilcock became the interviewee

R: did read it about the various disclosures and the exposure of what's going on with the 13 families

McGoo: This is something else entirely: Corey was pulled out of his body and taken by the Mayans to the back side of the moon – he doesn't have a copy of the article

R: the Mayans talk about the solar flash that happened with our sun – thinks it will be sooner than 2023 due to the energies

McGoo: It has a great deal to do with our ascension which is why he brought it up

Caller/D: read it on Divine Cosmos – said it would happen BY 2023, not ON 2023

- Corey's been saying lots about it; caller watches all the episodes on Gaia TV
- the blue spheres in front of the sun are gone – they were supposed to be protecting us from that flash which is why they were there in the first place

T: likes to read Boudreau because of his Buddhist background

- they are doing something behind the scenes, some kind of intervention that has not been encompassed entirely
- when you hear that Hubble has an additional technical ability and can see to the very edge of the entire Mazaroth: there is something going on here that is not divine in the . . .
- David's show on his own – is about Wisdom teachings and how it's written in the wisdom teachings that this solar flash that's supposed to come
- Solar Flash: play some of the wisdom teachings David – it's supposed to happen and change our consciousness – and our abilities will show up

T to the Caller: we never lost those abilities in consciousness. The Orian Warlords influenced the Atlanteans to do dark experiments, and the blow up of the crystal caused the siddhis to become less and less effective over time.

- the resulting hole in the ionosphere caused us to lose the xenon gas which also affected our abilities as well as our life on this planet.
- the capstone of the largest pyramid has the seed pods that have been preserved – when it is opened, and the seed pods are planted – they grow laterally across vast areas in very few days, and spores will grow and release xenon gas
- she knows that underneath the Sahara Desert, there are so many nuclear silos
A huge garden will be completed when the seed pods grow

What is the solar flash? – a giant bolt of lightning

R: as the sun goes through its transformation/transfiguration, it becomes brighter and brighter and as this radiant light grows, it reaches a maximum point and goes shooting out and meets the anomaly

- he understands that everyone's energies, our particles, move upward in octave

T: isn't this the reason why things didn't happen before? That what Mother was saying was that she wanted as many humans as possible to withstand the energy burst?

Audio: a short piece from Robin Williams 1952-2014

Audio: Om Gam Ganapataye Namaha

https://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=M7WcWc1_a6M

Lord Ganesha is the master of wisdom and knowledge. He is the remover of obstacles, and guardian of beauty, prosperity, grace and compassion. Lord Ganesha is the first deity to be revered in Hindu rites. He is a guardian of doors of houses and temples. He is the God that removes the internal and external obstacles of our success, and he is the one that grants the opening of your spiritual gifts. He is also the protector of all beings.

Lord Ganesha is known as the Guardian of Knowledge, representing the sage, or a state of consciousness where a man reaches self-realization and plenitude of gifts.

He is the first son of Shiva, the Lord of Transformation and supreme reality and the Goddess Parvati, the Mother of the Cosmos.

Only Breath

Not Christian or Jew or Muslim, not Hindu
Buddhist, sufi, or zen. Not any religion or cultural system. I am not from the East or the West, not out of the ocean or up from the ground, not natural or ethereal, not composed of elements at all. I do not exist, am not an entity in this world or in the next,

did not descend from Adam and Eve or any origin story. My place is placeless, a trace of the traceless. Neither body or soul.

I belong to the beloved, have seen the two worlds as one and that one call to and know, first, last, outer, inner, only that breath breathing human being.

2018-01-16 (2012-01-02) Epiphany: An Astrological Interpretation

Who Were the The Magi?

<http://www.spiritualalchemy.co.uk/blog/?p=224>

*'We three kings of Orient are, bearing gifts we traverse afar
Field and fountain, moor and mountain following yonder star'*

A favourite carol tells of the three wise men who came to worship the child Jesus in the stable, a story retold for two thousand years. There are many interpretations of who these visitors might have been. They are variously described as Kings of the East and Astrologers, and are commonly referred to as the Magi. The word Magi means 'wise ones' and relates to those who had a deep knowledge of the divine sciences including astronomy, astrology, numerology and the study of the celestial heavens and the ancient star maps. Today's term 'magic' is derived from it and is used to describe something supernatural or beyond the ordinary. Many intriguing questions arise. If the story is true and the Magi did indeed come to pay homage to Jesus how did they know of his birth? We are told they were guided by a star arising in the East which 'went before them' and finally 'came to rest' over the place where Jesus lay. When did this visit occur? Today Christians celebrate The Adoration of the Magi and the Feast of Epiphany on January 6th in remembrance of this event. Epiphany means 'great light' or 'illumination', referring in this instance to Jesus as the Light of the World.

If the Magi had 'traversed afar' from their own kingdoms, reputedly of the Persian Empire, this would have been a lengthy and even hazardous journey with much preparation required. How could they possibly arrive within days of the birth, for in that time the journey from Persia to Jerusalem covered some twelve hundred miles and involved a journey by camel of a minimum three to six months? Travellers were required to cross the Syrian desert to Damascus, then south by what is now the Great Mecca Route, with the Sea of Galilee and the River Jordan to the west before reaching the crossing point near Jericho. According to the story, the Kings went directly to Jerusalem where they began to enquire, 'Where is he that has been born King of the Jews for we have seen his star in the East and have come to worship him?' Word reached King Herod the Great, the ruler of Judea, who understandably became apprehensive. He was not alone in this for factions within the Sanhedrin, the ruling Council which governed Jewish religious affairs, were also concerned about anything which might disrupt the status quo and threaten their position of power. Herod enquired of the Jewish Scribes and Pharisees concerning the prophecies of where the expected Messiah was to be born, and was told 'In Bethlehem of Judea for so it is written by the prophet'. At this news Herod summoned the Magi and asked them at what time the star had appeared. This might seem a strange request but was in fact a sensible one, since Herod had his own court astrologers who armed with this information could draw up a chart to ascertain whether or not this was truly an auspicious event. Herod then directed the Kings to the town of Bethlehem and told them to 'Search diligently for the child and when you have found him bring me word that I too may come and worship him.'

History has shown us that Herod's intention was not to worship but to destroy the child. The Magi, having found the place where Jesus lay, presented their gifts and 'being warned in a dream not to return to Herod they departed to their own country by another way.' When Herod realised that he had been misled by the Magi he flew into one of the rages for which he was renowned. He determined to eliminate what he perceived to be a rival to his throne and commanded that all male children under the age of two were to be killed. This edict was carried out and is remembered by both Jews and Christians as the Slaughter of the Innocents, depicted in iconography and retold through time. Some have doubted the historical accuracy of the story which was not given prominence by historians of the time. The truth, however, is that vicious cruelty was a hallmark of Herod's bloody reign and there were many massacres, murder and revenge being the order of the day; this was simply one more. Once again Joseph received a dream in which an angel appeared to him with a warning saying, 'Rise, take the child and his mother and flee to Egypt and remain there until I tell you: for Herod is about to search for the child to destroy him... and he rose and took the child and his mother by night and departed into Egypt and remained there until the death of Herod.'

Herod was to die a slow and agonizing death soon after this event, surrounded by plots to poison him. His death is believed to have occurred in the Spring of 4 BC at his palace on the Dead Sea. He was succeeded by his son, Archelaus who the Jewish people did not wish to be their ruler and appealed to Caesar to give them an alternative king. Caesar divided the land over which Archelaus had control, saying that he would only receive the royal title if he ruled virtuously. Archelaus ruled for seven years before being exiled to Gaul. The Bible gives no account of the Flight into Egypt but states that on their return from Egypt, Joseph took Jesus and Mary to live in Nazareth because Archelaus still reigned in Judaea. Archelaus was succeeded by his brother, Herod Antipas, who would one day be called upon to judge Jesus of Nazareth.

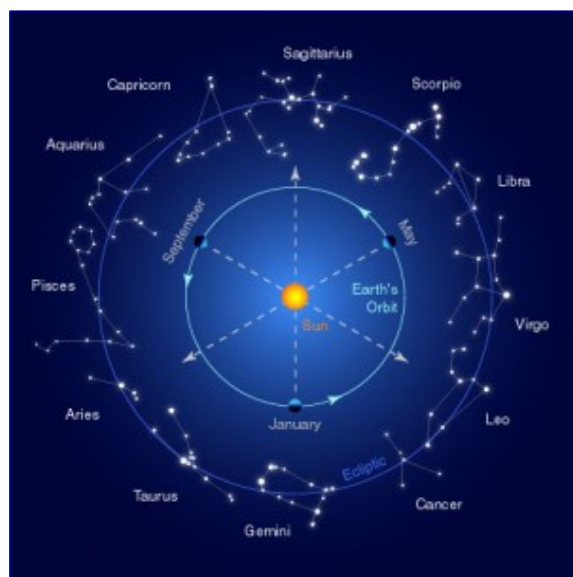

The Star of Bethlehem Fulfillment of a 3,000 year prophecy?

What then of the star and the visit by the Magi which traditionally depicts the Magi present at the nativity scene following his birth. How can we reconcile the timing of these events for the journey would take many months? We can only answer the seeming contradictory timing of these events through an understanding of natural law and cosmic cycles; it is astrology which holds the key. The Magi, or Mage, were Masters of the esoteric arts with a deep understanding of the celestial heavens and the significance of planetary configurations. Astrology, as a cornerstone of the divine sciences throughout antiquity, had amassed a vast wealth of data concerning the interrelationship between the human and the divine. The birth of a Messiah had long been foretold by the prophets and was awaited impatiently by the Jewish people, astrologers would have been aware of this. An event of such magnitude as the birth of an Avatar, or World Teacher, would certainly have been expected to be heralded in the heavens, and not simply on the day of the birth but well in advance. It would be reasonable to expect the unfolding of not one but a series of unusual planetary configurations. We shall see that this is exactly what occurred, for the Star of Bethlehem was preceded by a series of planetary conjunctions which alerted the Magi who had been scanning the heavens awaiting the sign that the birth of a king was imminent. At this point they would prepare for and begin their long journey to Palestine which would indeed take many months. Through their ability to read the astrological signs they were led by the Star of Bethlehem which ensured their arrival in the region coincided with the birth of Jesus.

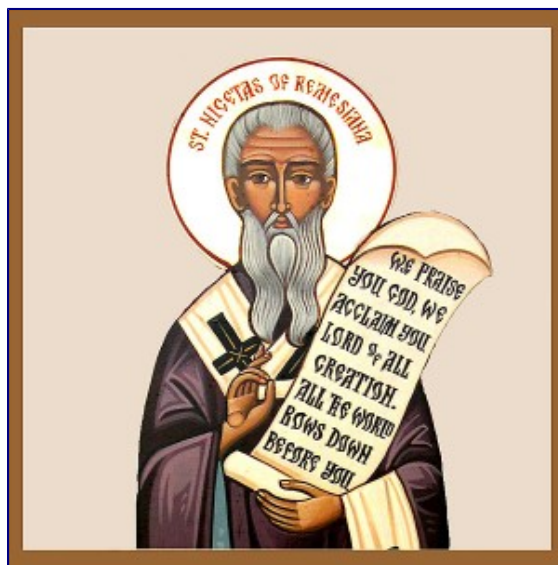

Since all kings in antiquity appointed their personal Astrologer to the Court some have wondered why Herod's astrologers did not identify the Star, and have explained this by stating that astrology was not part of the Jewish culture. In fact diverse schools of Astrology had developed over the centuries according to individual cultural tradition, including the Jewish. The Magi are frequently depicted in iconography wearing Persian robes, an indication that their roots lay in the ancient teachings of the Zoroastrian priesthood established five centuries before the birth of Jesus. Interestingly Zarathustra, the founder of this new religion in Persia, prophesied that in time a king would arise from Abraham who would raise the dead and transform the world into a kingdom of peace. The arcane teachings of Persia had their origins in the Chaldean mystery schools of ancient Egypt and later embraced Pythagorean principles based on solar and lunar cycles. The Jewish tradition did not accept the Persian school of thought which they considered to be of pagan origin. It would not be surprising therefore that there would be differences of interpretation for Herod's astrologers, while anticipating the birth of the Messiah, did not practice according to Persian principles and failed to recognise the signs.

Astrological Configuration

Astrologers and astronomers have pondered on the mystery of the Star for centuries and many possible explanations and have been put forward. The Star has never been explained satisfactorily because we begin with preconceived ideas and assumptions, looking for physical answers to metaphysical concepts. Assuming the validity of the story, we must first decide whether the Star was the result of natural phenomena, a miraculous event, or perhaps a combination of both. We can turn to Johannes Kepler for assistance. Kepler, a German astronomer born in 1571, is credited with the discovery of the laws of planetary motion; he was also a brilliant astrologer. In December 1603 as Christmas approached Kepler, intrigued by the mysteries of the Star of Bethlehem, sought an answer and through his calculations found there had been a Jupiter/Saturn conjunction in Pisces in both 7 and 6 BC.

Jupiter, we should note, was acknowledged by ancient peoples as the King's planet, the highest authority and ruler of the solar system and known by many names. To the Babylonians it was Marduk, to the Greeks Zeus, and to the Romans Jupiter. Kepler referred to the writing of a medieval scholar Rabbi Abarbonel to learn the particular significance of the Jupiter/Saturn conjunction for the Jewish people. Saturn, the ringed planet, was accorded the role of Shield of Palestine, while the constellation Pisces associated with Syria and Palestine represented epochal events. The planetary configuration of Jupiter encountering Saturn in Pisces occurring at the time of the birth of Jesus would certainly have indicated to the astrologers of the day the imminent arrival of a divine cosmic ruler to appear in Palestine. Fifteen centuries after the life of Jesus, Kepler identified the triple conjunction, which lasted for a period of ten months, as the Star of Bethlehem foretold by Old Testament prophecy as the coming of the King of Kings, the Messiah. Jewish prophecies had predicted that the arrival of the Messiah would be heralded by a celestial event as a sign from God. In Jewish tradition when the King's Star Jupiter lined up with Saturn, the star of ultimate authority, this was referred to as the Star of David. Jesus, as we have seen, was of the royal line of David. Christ, or Christos, is not a name but a title, translated as 'anointed of God'. Small wonder that from a Christian perspective the star would be seen as the celestial signature for the birth of Christ the King.

Significance of 7/6BC

Astrological calculations are exact and therefore the date for the birth of Jesus is critical in proposing that these celestial configurations in any way heralded his mission. Controversy over this date has continued to vex theologians and strengthened the argument for sceptics. We know that in the sixth century the monk Dionysius Exiguus was appointed by Pope John the First to create a new calendar in an attempt to reconcile the Roman and the Celtic calendars, which did not agree. This he did taking the birth of Jesus as the new reference point for its commencement. After some reluctance and debate this was formally adopted by the Synod of Whitby, England in 664 AD, and from then on chronological time has been measured from the birth and death of Jesus as BC or AD. Centuries later it had become apparent that Dionysius had miscalculated. Jesus was known to have been born in the reign of Caesar Augustus, the commencement of his reign was of course known. However, Dionysius did not take into account that when proclaimed emperor, Augustus had already reigned in another name for some four years. It is a historical fact that Dionysius miscalculated by a period of approximately 5 years. By the time this was realised it was too late for the Church to concede their error, the masses were never informed and have continued to celebrate oblivious to the fact that Jesus was born not in the first year of the first century but some years before. For millions who approached the millennium celebrations in hope or even in fear of what this might bring this has some significance, and for those who study cycles and prophecy it is important to know that it is later than we think.

Christmas Day – Pagan or Christian?

The debate continues as to when Jesus was actually born with various authorities placing his birth anywhere between 6 BC and 2 BC. The traditional birth date of 25th December is dismissed by many on the basis that the Christian Church adopted and adapted pagan festivals as an effective means of converting the masses. This is not in dispute. However, the argument is then put forward by some that the Christian calendar is meaningless and that the birth of Jesus celebrated as 25th December is therefore false. With a greater understanding of cosmic cycles we can see how such synchronicity might come about naturally rather than through manipulation, and how both pagan and religious sites and festivals might automatically merge.

Pagan festivals and sites are aligned to the solar and lunar calendars. We might expect the predestined birth of a World Saviour, or Messiah, to coincide with celestial cycles, in particular the solstice, which in pagan terms was the manifestation of a sun god. A title bestowed upon Jesus is 'The Light of the World' one who is the supreme demonstration of the light in action as the 'Son' (or the sun) of God according to our preference. It might be suggested that while the language differs a correlation can be seen. When we examine some historical data it is easy to see how we might dismiss as seemingly irrelevant the key cyclical patterns which demonstrate the link between pagan and Christian festivals, for the dates can be used to demolish the case for or against depending upon your point of view. The birth of Jesus at Christmas and his death at Easter occurred in accordance with the Law of Cycles, mirrored in the pagan festivals which honour the natural rhythms of earth, sea and sky; a supreme demonstration of synchronicity as each successive religion builds upon the same energy cycles.

It is an easy matter to dismiss seeming manipulation by the early church fathers as the sole evidence for his birth however this is in fact derived not from Christian records but from the Jewish, and not from the birth of Jesus himself but from the birth of John the Baptist, who we know was six months older than Jesus. According to the traditional account, Gabriel appeared to Mary to inform her that she was to be the mother of Jesus, she was also informed of her cousin Elizabeth's pregnancy, 'and this is the sixth month with her'. The Torah, the sacred book of the Jewish people is exact concerning ritual and ceremony; the very word Torah means 'the law'. Strict temple law governed priestly ceremonial by rota. When we refer back to the story of Zachariah, 'a priest of Abi'dah who served in the temple', we can therefore identify the exact timing of his service in the temple which was laid down according to sacred custom. According to the records Zachariah served during the period which relates to October, the month when he received the visit from Gabriel and the month in which Elizabeth conceived. Using these predictors and the natural gestation period of pregnancy historians have calculated the dates for the conception and births of John and Jesus. Elizabeth we are told was six months pregnant when visited by Mary who had already conceived. John was born in June and his feast day is celebrated on the 24th day of that month. Since Mary conceived when Elizabeth was already six months pregnant, this event would have occurred at the end of March or the beginning of April, and today Christians celebrate the Annunciation on March 25th as the day when Mary received the message from Gabriel that she was to be the mother of Jesus. If we follow the natural gestation period the birth would then have occurred in late December making the traditional date of 25th December eminently possible.

Sol Invictus

The birth of both Jesus and John almost synchronise with the summer and winter solstices. The birth of John is commemorated on June 21st the summer solstice, the longest day of the year. This is the hidden meaning behind John's words: 'He must increase while I must decrease' referring to the mission of Jesus who will come after him as the Messiah or Saviour who will enlighten the world.

The Winter Solstice, the shortest day of the year normally occurs on the 21st or 22nd of December. The Pagan Roman festival of 'natalis invicti' (birth of the unconquerable sun) historically commemorated the birth of Apollo the Sun God at the Winter Solstice, a time of darkness. In esoteric terms the birth of Jesus on December 25th occurs after the winter solstice and is determined by the Annunciation, the visit of Archangel Gabriel to announce to Mary that she would bear a son. As with the pagan festival the timing of the birth symbolizes light overcoming darkness.

Light of the World Hanukkah and Christmas

Given these coordinates of the predestined events confirmed not by the Christian scripture but by the Jewish, we can also note that Hanukkah, the Jewish Festival of Lights, on occasion also coincides with the Christian celebration of the birth of Jesus. The two feasts merge on 25th December on the occasions when these two diverse calendars coincide. For the Jewish people the lights of Hanukkah represent the hope of a miraculous return of the Shekhina Glory of God, the light which was present when their God spoke to them through their prophets. We can marvel at one more coincidence and perhaps wonder whether this was the same light reported by the shepherds in the field when 'glory shone around'.

We can now consider the metaphysical aspects of the Star to discover whether this was simply natural phenomena, a scientifically recorded historical event or something more. While there is no doubting the unusual triple conjunction which occurred over a ten month period in 7 and 6 BC as an actual physical event, we must also take into account the description given that the Star of Bethlehem appeared in the East and moved in a westerly direction coming to rest 'over the place where Jesus lay' in Bethlehem.

If we return to the principle that matter is light energy clothed in a denser vibration we might trace the emanation of light back to its origin, consciousness of such magnitude that it created a point of light within the night sky for all to see. The electromagnetic field which surrounds every living thing reflects the consciousness within. It is possible to observe and to photograph the energy variance between lifestreams and indeed between human beings. Those whose awareness is limited only to the gross physical level, for whom their only priority is to have their own needs met, emit a different frequency from one who has attained a greater degree of empathy, compassion and respect for others. The auric field is magnified in accordance with the advancement of soul awareness. In the case of a highly evolved soul or spiritual Master this energy vibrates at an accelerated frequency, attracting or magnetizing others into its orbit. This is the principle of spiritual attainment, one who has acquired true humility will inevitably attract others. We might use the examples of Mother Theresa or Gandhi who inspired thousands, even millions of followers. The title Mahatma bestowed on Gandhi by his followers means 'great soul'.

How great would be the auric field of a cosmic Master returning to earth to expand personal and planetary consciousness in an attempt to bring enlightenment to the masses. There is much misunderstanding concerning the term Christ which has come to be associated exclusively with Jesus, when in fact this is a title denoting an appointed and anointed representative of God on earth. This then was the Bethlehem star, the light body or etheric presence of Jesus whose predestined mission was to demonstrate Christ consciousness for the people; literally to show them 'The Way'.

January 2018 - Saturn in Capricorn, the Turning Point

Carl Boudreau ·

Saturday, 13 January 2018

<https://www.facebook.com/notes/carl-boudreau/january-2018-saturn-in-capricorn-the-turning-point/10215521399656571/>

As many of you know, Saturn entered Capricorn on December 20th, 2017. Saturn is now in Capricorn for the full transit. It will be in Capricorn until it transitions into Aquarius over the course of 2020.

The charts for Saturn's transit of Capricorn do not say we are quickly moving out onto a broad new, stable energetic plateau. What they say, rather, is that we are entering upon a protracted, intense and turbulent energetic shift.

I think this shift will be for the better. I think it will mark the turnaround we have been waiting for, but it will be nonetheless intense, turbulent and protracted.

Saturn's transit of Capricorn is part of an unusually important, unusually complicated, and unusually powerful transition - many-layered and many-faceted, with numerous incremental phases. To fully appreciate the meaning of Saturn in Capricorn, and why it is a turning point, one must look at the complexities of this lengthy, many-phased, multi-layered transition.

As I have often mentioned, from the early 1970s, until 2010-11, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto were all in signs closely associated with the 1% - Libra thru Pisces. I referred to this as the 'oligarchic alignment.' This alignment placed most of the astrological power in the Zodiac into the hands of the 1% for roughly forty years.

With the exclusive backing of the three powerful outer planets, over a period of roughly forty years, the 1% worked successfully to capture most of the world's political and economic power. With this power, they created economic and political systems that heavily favored their interests around the globe.

The oligarchic alignment began breaking up in 2010-11, when Uranus entered Aries, a sign associated with the 99%. But the breakup of the oligarchic alignment could not be about a rapid transfer of power from the 1% to the 99%. The outer planets move too slowly to produce such a quick shift in power.

In 2010-11, Uranus moved into Aries, a sign associated with the 99%. Neptune will not move into Aries until 2025-26. Pluto will not do so until 2067-68.

So the breakup of the oligarchic alignment is not about the rapid movement of the powerful outer planets into the signs of the 99% and taking their power with them. The breakup of the oligarchic alignment cannot be about a quick, straightforward transfer of power.

Judging by the aspects we have experienced since Uranus moved into Aries, the breakdown of the oligarchic alignment is more about fixing, eliminating or replacing the flawed patterns in collective consciousness that make oligarchy possible. At the moment, the bulk of astrological activity - of this difficult and complicated transition - centers around Capricorn.

Energetic Focus on Capricorn

Capricorn is about management, administration and governance. It is about high level organizational work.

On the most basic, textbookish level, Saturn in Capricorn will compel us to more closely scrutinize governmental, managerial and administrative decisions. It will drive a more detailed, critical awareness of political and economic process and a generally investigative form of awareness. This Saturn-driven process will show us the true cost of past, present and upcoming decisions. Under the influence of Saturn in Capricorn, the weight of our accumulated errors in those areas governed by Capricorn will become uncomfortably apparent.

We will, for example, begin to perceive the true cost of organizational, administrative, managerial and legislative errors. Saturn will compel us to revisit the decisions involved and correct any errors.

The oligarchic alignment was in place for a long time. It allowed us to coast, borne along passively on the oligarchic currents. They allowed us to coast despite the fact that errors and their consequences slowly accumulated. Current and upcoming aspects, like those under discussion, won't let us continue to coast, for better or for worse.

Governance decisions, both old and new, will now come under critical scrutiny on individual and collective levels. Saturn in Capricorn will require those who exercise power to make up for past mistakes and be more careful with new decisions. Our leaders will have to work much harder and to much higher standards to achieve their goals. We'll be playing catch up

For example, many of the decisions we made under the oligarchic alignment were biased in favor of the 1%. We let the bias and its consequences pass. But no longer. The current Saturn transit will make us understand the true cost of these biases and the need to correct them. Saturn is nothing if not relentless and thorough. We continue to coast. Don't expect a reprieve from Saturn's penalties. Don't expect people to easily deflect and or elude Saturn's pressures. Saturn is a tough taskmaster.

The pressure, or burdensomeness, of the consequences that Saturn imposes - the costs Saturn imposes - for bad decisions will persist. The price will grow until we correct our ways. If we do not correct our mistakes, these errors will continue to weigh upon us, even after Saturn leaves Capricorn. If we do not resolve these issues, the quality of our life will continue to deteriorate.

Furthermore, in each of Saturn's complete trips around the Zodiac, during each 29+ year Saturn/Capricorn cycle, it undertakes a revision of all the structures under its governance in all the signs. So as Saturn began its transit of Capricorn in December 2017, its home sign, Saturn began a Zodiac-wide cycle of reform.

Saturn's transits of the other 11 Zodiacal signs will impose changes consistent with those made while Saturn is in Capricorn. Now in Capricorn, Saturn is establishing the norms of the future. Saturn's transit of Capricorn, its home sign are more complex, comprehensive and important than you might think.

As Saturn transits the Zodiac, it will follow up and follow through on the revisions it makes in Capricorn. During the roughly 29 year Saturn cycle that is now beginning, issues that seem to have been settled a long time ago will be reconsidered

The bottom line, most of the things done on the organizational, governmental, administrative or managerial levels since the late 1970s, were done under the influence of the oligarchic alignment. They are, thus, all heavily biased toward the interests of the 1%. These pro-oligarchic programs, policies and such are going to be re-examined, revised and/or undone.

Many of the changes made to our governing and administrative structures during the Saturn cycle that began in 1988 were instrumental in the takeover of global political and economic systems by the forces of oligarchy. A bias in favor of the 1% works against the 99%. This bias is likely to be exposed and corrected under Saturn's guidance.

Saturn's transit of Capricorn is likely to correct our trajectory, shifting it in a non-oligarchic direction. And that covers a lot of ground. The oligarchic alignment has heavily influenced, or biased, the work of Saturn going back nearly two whole Saturn/Capricorn cycles, more than half a century. The most recent previous Saturn cycles began in 1959 and 1988.

Many of the countless governmental decisions made over the last half of the 20th century were made in large part by and for oligarchs, for the 1%. The 99% are now finding these decisions increasingly difficult to live with.

Calls for their revision, or elimination, are becoming commonplace. With Saturn now in Capricorn, headed into a whole new Saturn/Capricorn cycle, we might, indeed, see a lot of these measures modified heavily or rolled back.

Saturn and the fixed star Vega

Saturn's transit of Capricorn will be heavily influenced by several related astrological events. In my last post, for example, I discussed Pluto's conjunction with Vega during the 2016 US elections.

Vega is an especially bright star in the Constellation of the Lyre, or harp. It is a star known for enchantment, or beguilement. It is responsible for the charisma of those in positions of authority.

Astrologically, support for the oligarchy has been waning since 2010. On the ground oligarchic policies and programs are drawing increasing criticism and opposition. However, Pluto's conjunction with Vega during the 2016 elections in the US intensified the magic of Vega.

Pluto hovered close to Vega during the US primary and general elections of 2016. Pluto would have intensified and volatilized the seductive, beguiling power of Vega, increasing the charisma of those currently in power, regardless of the growing unpopularity of their policies.

Pluto's intensification of Vega's seductive influence very likely strengthened the charismatic appeal of oligarchic figures and their rhetoric. That would explain why, despite waning support for oligarchy and an increasingly unhappy, restless electorate, the US ended up with a government controlled by supporters of the oligarchy.

While in Capricorn, Saturn, will conjoin the fixed star Vega, too, with the opposite effect. Saturn's approaching conjunction with Vega is already reducing the charismatic power and appeal of the pro-oligarchic political figures it helped get elected in 2016.

Saturn is still only approaching Vega, but it will be hovering over and around Vega throughout 2019. As it approaches Vega through the early degrees of Capricorn, Saturn's damping effects on Vega's seductive charm will increasingly suppress the charisma of political figures, reducing their power to persuade.

That will increase the likelihood that the 2018 elections will bring new people into power. During 2018, as Saturn moves toward conjunction with Vega, Saturn's damping effect on Vega will weigh progressively on oligarchic and non-oligarchic political figures alike. We should see the growing unpopularity of political figures across the board.

Under the increasingly watchful eyes of more and more discerning voters, political leaders will have to rely less on their charisma and more and more on the quality of their ideas. They will also need to depend on solid results and the Saturnian virtues of hard work, clear thinking and discipline.

We will not see Saturn's full effect on Vega until 2019, when it hovers over Vega for the whole year. In 2019, those elected in 2018 will be held to their promises by a watchful and demanding electorate. Charged rhetoric will count for less and less.

Saturn and Pluto Together in Capricorn

Saturn is also moving toward a conjunction with Pluto in the later degrees of Capricorn. The conjunction will be exact only once, in January of 2020.

Saturn's damping energies are already combining with Pluto's impulsive, intense energies. Combined, the energies of Saturn and Pluto generate mental and emotional instability and intensity.

Saturn's restrictive limiting energies will combine, compete and conflict with Pluto's intensifying, impulsive, driving energies. The result of their combination will be conflict and volatility.

This will bring pervasive mental and emotional volatility, increasing, as Saturn approaches its one-off conjunction with Pluto in January 2020. Taken by itself, the mix of Saturn, Capricorn and Pluto energy is likely to give the next several years an agitated, conflicted quality.

Viewed from another astrological perspective, Saturn governs the law and Pluto governs investigation and police work. The combination of Saturn and Pluto energies will likely bring scrutiny investigations, revelations, regulation and legal and legislative actions that provoke vigorous public responses.

The Saturn Uranus Connection

There are secondary connections in the Saturn Capricorn Ingress chart that point to the emergence of a strong but not readily apparent Uranus/Aquarius influence.

Aquarius represents the pursuit of an ideal society. It also represents those who would fight to idealize society. Aquarius is also associated with independent, outspoken idealistic people. They seek self-knowledge, given to self-expression and self-assertion. They are typically regarded as “unconventional.”

The implication seems to be that if everyone expressed their true nature, the result would be an ideal society. Or that an ideal society would allow for universal self-expression.

Saturn and Uranus appear to be polar opposite influences. Saturn represents the ultimate in conventionality. Uranus represents the ultimate in unconventionality. But on an archetypal level, they are closely tied.

Capricorn, the 12th House of Aquarius

Capricorn is also the 12th house of Aquarius. It governs all that is hidden, or broken in Aquarius, including unresolved conflicts and dilemmas. In brief, Capricorn, the 12th house of Aquarius, conceals all the obstacles to the achievement of Aquarian ideals - all the obstacles to the idealization of human society.

Presently, we have both Saturn and Pluto plowing through Aquarius’s 12th house searching out and revealing all the issues hidden there. Saturn and Pluto are very powerful influences and their energies, especially when combined, are well-suited to finding and exposing every obstacle to the achievement of the Aquarian ideal lurking in its 12th house.

The ideal, Aquarian form of government would be brought about by the best organizational and administrative work of Capricorn. The idealized chaos, or perfect anarchy, the extreme personal freedom sought by Aquarius, would be enabled by the superlative organizational, administrative and regulatory powers of Capricorn.

In an important sense, Aquarius is the flip side of Capricorn, or vice versa. What manifests in Aquarius is the best work of Capricorn. It is Capricorn that makes possible the idealized chaos, or freedom, of Aquarius. Aquarian freedom is the apotheosis - the highest possible degree - of Capricornian order.

We know that Saturn rules Capricorn, but, alongside Uranus, Saturn is the co-ruler of Aquarius. So Saturn’s energies should be especially effective in rooting out and sorting through the obstacles to Aquarian governmental perfection piled up in Aquarius’s 12th house.

That is especially true when Saturn’s energies are combined with Pluto’s energies. This is especially true since Pluto has been plowing Capricorn’s fields since 2008.

The South Node in Aquarius

Topping off the clean up work of Saturn and Pluto in Aquarius’s 12th house, is the work of the South Node in Aquarius. While Saturn and Pluto do their deep renovations in its 12th house, the South Node is cleaning up the sign of Aquarius itself.

The South Node is an indicator of patterns we need to leave behind. The South Node in Aquarius, therefore, is warning us away from prevailing clichés, misconceptions and deceptive theories about how to idealize society. I think that, in practical terms, the South Node in Aquarius is just telling us to reject oligarchic notions of how to idealize society - notions that tell us that the oligarchic model is the one to follow.

The 1% has been peddling such notions really hard for more than forty years at least. Indeed, I think the idea of oligarchy goes back millennia.

Unfortunately, I think the oligarchic ideal has taken deep root in many minds. Many among us have internalized oligarchic values. When we look for ways to idealize global societies, these oligarchic notions are likely to try to flood back into our minds. South Node in Aquarius will help us wash those ideas out of individual and collective consciousness. In practice, then, the South Node in Aquarius is telling us not to be swayed by oligarchic political and economic theories. North Node in Leo is telling us to follow our hearts, not the oligarchic ideology of the 1%.

The good news. Uranus Enters Taurus, mid-May 2019

When Uranus enters Taurus in mid-May, it will form a trine relationship with Capricorn. The Saturnian and Plutonian forces of exposure, rectification and penalty now at work in Capricorn will express harmoniously with the Uranian forces of resistance, protest and change that will soon be at work in Taurus. The forces of change will be in harmonious relationship with the forces of scrutiny, revelation and rectification at work in Capricorn, in the 12th house of Aquarius.

A side note: In the US chart, Taurus is on the cusp of the 6th house, the house of organized labor. When Uranus enters Taurus in May, I expect a resurgence of labor activism and very possibly a resurgence of the US labor movement. Organized Labor in the US influences and is influenced by organized labor internationally. The American Labor Movement might spearhead a global progressive move.

Stated simply, we are talking about a surprisingly complex blend of Saturn/Pluto/Uranus and Capricorn/Aquarius/Taurus energies. My belief is that, beginning with Saturn's Capricorn ingress in mid to late December, we have been feeling a gentle but persistent infusion of this very potent, highly stimulative blend. This infusion will continue into the indefinite future.

The energetic blend, or concentration, might vary as the planets move, but I believe this infusion of disruptive and transformative energies will continue into the indefinite future. The effects will be more or less consistent as the blend changes.

The purpose of this energy seems to be to either free us from the grip of self-defeating, self-limiting economic, social and political patterns or to make us reexamine them very closely. This blend of energies works against the imbalances, excesses and inequities of the status quo. It also works against complacency and incites to action.

It is a persistent energy, but it is also a diffuse energy. It will pervade our thoughts and feelings. It is an energy that complacency and the status quo cannot withstand. This energy will bring change.

As a result of this energy, consciousness will begin moving in an Aquarian direction. It will not be fast, but it will be relentless.

These energies will act like sand in the oligarchic machinery. They will be a lubricant in the machineries of resistance and reform.

I will write more as I come to understand more.

2017-01-22 Trip the Light Garry Schyman feat. Alicia Lemke

In a world kept small
Travel far from what I know
I'll be swept away
I need to know I can be lost
And not afraid

We're gonna trip the light
We're gonna break the night
And we'll see with new eyes
When we trip the light

Remember we're lost together
Remember we're the same
We hold the burning rhythm in our hearts
We hold the flame
We're gonna trip the light
We're gonna break the night

And we'll see with new eyes
When we trip the light
We're gonna trip the light
We're gonna break the night

And we'll see with new eyes
When we trip the light Music
I'll find my way home
On the western wind
To a place that was once my world
Back from where I've been

And in the mornig light
I'll remember
As the sun will rise
We are all the glowing embers
Of a distant fire

We're gonna trip the light
We're gonna break the night
And we'll see with new eyes
When we trip the light

Came on and trip the light
We're gonna break the night
And we'll se with new eyes
We're gonna trip the light

Music Came on and trip the light
We're gonna break the night
And we'll se with new eyes

We're gonna trip the light
We're gonna trip the light
We're gonna break the night
And we'll see with new eyes
We're gonna trip the light

2018-01-15 A Message to Lightworkers – January 15, 2018 by Caroline Oceana Ryan

The latest guidance from the Ascended Masters, Galactics, Earth Elementals, Faery Elders, Angels and Archangels known as the Collective:

Greetings, beautiful Light Bringers in this new age of humanity!

This new era for humanity, and for all upon the Earth, whether they are members of the two-legged nations, the four-legged nations, the winged and feathered nations, the rock or tree people, or the gods and goddesses of the seas, air, or soil.

Within and without, and all around this planet of great beauty and astounding diversity, there is without question a vibration of Change.

And that vibration is powerfully re-adjusting and tuning to it all other vibrations, no matter how low or discordant those vibrations have been.

So that, as you see or hear certain persons releasing statements against certain nations or ethnicities (and these are not what you assume them to be—you are all of you seeded from every corner of this Universe), or warning of war, or insulting whole genders or races—you can breathe calmly, and remain in your perfect center.

For the bluster of that loud wail carries none of the height and staying power of the note being sounded above it—one that is so pure, so high, and so finely created in substance and intention, that nothing can ever remove its influence.

You may be wondering, “But how does that higher vibration, no matter how beautifully and perfectly sent from the higher realms, have the power to anchor permanently into the Earth?”

How can it finally drown out the low drums and foul screams of war, violence, and oppression, when these have ruled Earth for so long?”

And we want to say, that in the final hours of his and Sam’s journey, Frodo Baggins assumed the same.

As you yourself may feel some days, he also felt that there was very little use in going on.

Yet with Sam’s help, he made it to the top of the last mountain of the journey, and threw the ring back into the fire from which it was forged.

You are doing no less, dear ones.

We are aware of your dizziness, and exhaustion, your feelings of illness, anger, and grief some days.

We are aware of (and feel with you) your inner confusion, as so much in the world appears to be getting worse rather than improving and moving into the Light.

And so it is, each time the dark expresses itself in ways that appear to blot out the increasing levels of Light all around you—the Light that you are yourself—as it attempts, in one last desperate plea bargaining with the lower realms, to reassert and maintain its “supremacy,” which was never meant to be permanent, never meant to characterize Earth life indefinitely.

You ask how the higher vibration that is Peace, that is Love of all diversity, of all Life and all Light, could have the wherewithal to anchor permanently into the Earth, when the usurpers appear to perpetually have the upper hand.

They appear to have the technologies (unknown to you for the most part) and the mental control of Earth’s people required to ensure that their vibrations remain the predominant ones, while yours languish in dreams and unrealized visions.

And we would say, this great journey, this great task is why you are here at this most miraculous time.

For as Earth transfigures from enslaved entity to free and empowered Goddess, you are the ones who stand upon Her outer rim, with sword and shield at the ready, as you anchor with your very being those energies now flowing to the Earth from your great Light source and ally, Alcyone, the Great Central Sun, the source to whom your own Sun answers.

You do this in concert with Alcyone’s consort, Mother Sekhmet, who watches over this process, aiding in the birth of this new Being Whom Earth is becoming, and ensuring that Justice is done, not only on your planet, but throughout this star system.

We are aware that this will sound to be wishful mythology, and not a true description of what is occurring now.

You have been viewing the machinations of those desperate to maintain their stranglehold on Earth, treating Her not as Source, but as “resource”—things to be used, not guarded and honored.

We are aware that your thought processes and emotions have been manipulated for eons, so that each time you returned to a human body, you would again become the easily formed and directed entity that unwittingly or unwillingly helps support the dark forces with your efforts to survive.

And yet—in every age, there have been those who have risen above.

Those whose words or music, or whose deeds or intentions, or pure Loving presence, were such that they lifted all around them, including Nature Herself, out of the matrix of death and defeat, and into remembrance of the higher realms.

Into the re-claiming of the higher vibrations from which you come, and the true nature of souls who live freely, in Service to Source as they are in Service to Others.

And now—look, dear ones!

There are not a few of these now, but billions of you, come to re-form and re-set Earth's predominant vibration from one of despair, loss, anger, and grief, to one of Peace, higher intent, Love, and inner Knowing of and connection to all that expresses as Light in the higher realm.

Those Beings and energy forms that are constantly reaching for a higher vibration, for the pure Joy of it.

That is the New Reality, and that is the note you are sounding!

Did you think we would describe that transforming, Earth-changing, Life-giving tone as being sung only by Angels and Light Beings?

You are such, or you would not have come here now.

So remain in your place, Light Warriors—this is not a battle of death and destruction.

It is the last climb up what Tolkien (who foresaw all you are living in now) called Mount Doom.

And in those moments when you feel you cannot go any further, call out to us!

As your loyal servants, we will carry you to the very end.

For this is your journey, which you willingly took on, and you are more powerful than you can know.

Namaste, dear ones! You are never alone.
