V HARD NEWS TARA – T; RAMA – R

R: Sweet Angelique the Cat called from Paris

- In the UK newspapers 2 famous women from England came forward and had words to say about Harvey Weinstein sexual molestation, maybe ratpe
- This ties into the Grump story and how he thinks he's clean – it's about how the mobs across the planets play games with profits, debts, loan sharks, stuff he won't go into that he remembers from various Chinatowns in San Fran, or NYC or Detroit -
- She shared how all the criminal gangs across the planet on the wires – have heard something is about to change with the currencies on the planet; she said it means they are about to play with something –
 - China #1 and it's not Ben Fulford's White Dragon Society – but that China and Russia are going to expose 9/11 and the currency manipulations that happened in the US markets on the morning of 9/11 –
 - Larry Silverstein is tied into this story about criminal gangs & his piece of the action

T: they did something called 'naked shorts' on that morning, and predicted and they rigged it so they all got billions in insurance money as a kick back for blowing up the towers.

R: Sweet Angelique the Cat asked where is Mayor Rudy Guiliani: is he still on planet earth?
Who knows?

T: when she said they would expose events on 9/11 & the currency manipulation – did she mean the shorts? This has already happened – Bernie Schector talked of it before he was killed

R: Yes, they're talking about it. Harvey Weinstein is also connected to this from the rollovers that go into people's accounts as a result of certain events, and no one is the wiser – yet gov'ts like Russia & China are watching this sort of thing until they can take over the airwaves

- the video tape out there is in so many hands, it's not funny and it's about he misqualified energies of the goddess.

T: are people going to report Guiliani is missing?

R: Doesn't know - it's been between 30 – 60 days that he's not been seen

T: the reason she brought it up to R has something to do with what's coming up on that too

R: yes, and what happened on the morning of 911 that has affected the whole world

T: so that means the talk will shift to talking of 9/11 being an inside job very, very, very soon?

R: Yes, very, very soon – these guys are shng their pants – its about criminal gangs who have played with the dark side and tried to use the false fallen human ego matrix that ties in with the evil AI to control people, and love always wins – people are waking up like never before.

- no matter what they do, Ashtar and Sananda are here
- How we heal our collective PTSD as a planet-wide civilization – the easiest way for that to happen is to work with the 3 fold flame and the Violet Flame – those energies transform the misqualified energies that are out of its space/time continuum, called evil.

T: he didn't ask about the 2,200 year old man on Stargate who said it would be about 1000 years before all was settled. R: No he didn't

• It would be good to have a conversation with a Faction 2 White Knight coming out of left field is a consciousness shift – she's hearing more and more people say the Keshe technology doesn't work; also a conversation with someone about the new water technology does not change the memory of nuclear radiation of the water – BUT WE CAN CHANGE IT WITH OUR OWN CONSCIOUSNESS.

- The idea of what works and what does not work: THE REASON THAT THE POLARITY THINKING OF GOOD/ BAD, SOMETHING WORKS/DOESN'T WORK IS A FALLACY – it has to do with consciousness – and mind over matter

R: when he's floating 4' above the earth and has his phone on his chest, it's about shifting reality and we can all do it; he gets this hammered in the head with this idea every day

T: and there is part of us that forgets who we are and play a game with our lower ego - we get crabby, we blame someone out there for all the woes, and the residue of polarity is still there yet earth mother is not living in it, as the new earth is here!!!

- Shocking that people who talk to ET s or who have been around for 2000+ years . . .

Caller/BW: we're in disclosure right now- he addresses the entire audience: do not be discouraged: we are in disclosure NOW.

• He listened to the Jimmy Church show on the 16th and there was a picture of NASA showing the satellites – 2 of them appearing NE of America; they were surveilling certain parts of the US; he assumes that this is our disclosure. What do they think?

R: it very well could be. There are more and more stories about all kinds of things being seen and NASA will have to give a straight answer – it is coming from higher ups who are putting pressure on NASA

• Like Dr Carol Rosin worked with Dr Verner Von Braun – this is huge! Von Braun created the V1, V2 rockets for Hitler, and – since the Roswell incident there has been anti- gravity technology and that is all coming out now – 911 is an inside job

T: we know that 911 was an inside job and nothing has been done about it

R: Sybel Edmunds is not sitting on her thumbs!

• Mr Gueln, Flynn and the rest of them – not about Russia or Putin, but the criminal gangs that run governments.

C: He heard from a little bird that Donald J Trump is in a world of trouble – there is a third murder under him! No, it's a 2nd murder being pinned on Trump – the Russians have a 2nd murder!

T, R: haven't heard of this – what is the source of the info?

C: coming from a site called Gaia - BlueMoonGaia

T: 99.9% of what's on the net is not accurate – R hasn't heard of that site – forward it to Rama so R can forward to the King

C: Did Trump pay a stripper to have sex with him in the 1990s; she's appeared on several shows

T: they saw one from 2006 – the porn star, Stormy Daniels; at the same time Melania had a new baby by Trump, and he was out having a good time with someone

- The real truth is that Donald spent no or very little time with his children

- it's not about him – it's about the 13 families, the invaders who are not human – 13,000 years ago they invaded and took over; it's about the endless challenge to wake up
- But it is about him in another sense: he brings up various things – every single agency is corrupt to the core and the Democratic party is trying to say we have a wonderful CIA etc etc
- so he is revealing that those involved
- the Electoral College makes all the choices, and there have ever only been members of the 13 families who have become president
- We cannot play polarity games any more: Polarity is done – all the things coming up in our lives – we have to hear conversations with higher sense perception of truth, clair audience, clair voyance, higher sense perception of the truth

Sweet Angelique the Cat:

- 2 world famous women - as famous as Barbara Streisand but English – came forward said Harvey Weinstein sexually molested them & raped them; names still covered.
- Also the markets are teetering on the edge of oblivion – Max Keiser and Stacy are laying it out and we are at the moment where the old has to go, and St Germain can show us some alchemy and show us the new universe of economics when we work inside the framework of the United Federation of Planets -

T: a Russian jet was downed by Syrian rebels – Syrian rebels are totally financed by the US – all that goes out is the responsibility of the Grump – it was near a place in Syria AND THE PILOT WAS EXECUTED! Meaning he must have bailed and got shot when he hit the ground

- This is not good!

R: Syrian rebel group J as Al Nusra – they claim to be part of the Free Syrian Army who are McCain's buddies

T: they are doing things to start the next war

R: whatever the regular networks say, IT IS NOT PUTIN; HE IS ALIGNED WITH ANDROMEDANS who are committed to peace

- the only one ready to play with loose nukes will be the US and
- Ashtar etc have it in the bag!!! Along with Mother, Michael, Metatron, etc

T: the memo: was funded by the Dems, and the dossier was USED TO GET a warrant from FISA – funded by Democratic party and the Clinton foundation: HILLARY DID IT [this info from RT – never published on american main stream media]

R: THE CRIMINAL ORGANIZED GANGS RUN THE POLITICIANS, AND THE LOBBYISTS run the military in certain interests.

T: the Dems are enraged and promise to draft a counter memo – Deep State is involved

R: it's like the 3 Stooges playing with matches in a nuclear missile site – Ashtar has said No Nukes Dr Greer is so tied in with the Deep State and he says no nukes too and R believes him

- one of his top scientists, a Sikh, was assassinated in a Sikh temple in Wisconsin – there were 6 people killed at that time; it was a warning to Dr Greer too!
- This is not about violence yet love – so they have to get stunned and stand in force fields

T:

- On MSNBC saying that $160,000 was paid by Hillary to be used for her own purposes RT said she paid $9 MILLION!!! and the guy Steele is an M I 5 which means they are US allies and share info with the US and the Russians

R: the galactics have it in hand!

T: and the ex FBI McCabe – testified that no surveillance warrant would have been sought from FISA without the Steele dossier

- McCabe said today the Grump that the dossier was a salacious document which is true and none of what is being said is how it is on MSNBC

- T: has a document which comes from a past time - the reason we have the agenda in the first place is that the Khazarian mafia has to manipulate things so they what they want which is the seat of power which is the Electoral College
- What gives? Why do we have an Electoral College at all?

CELDF.org – Community Environmental Legal Defence Fund - working to establish the rights for people

THE ARTICLE IS BELOW – PLEASE READ IT WHILE FOLLOWING THE NOTES WHICH ARE FAR FROM COMPLETE – COMMENTS ARE IN DEPTH, COMPLICATED – IMPORTANT TO FOLLOW BOTH THE ARTICLE AND T’S ANALYSIS.

- The article provides a not pretty picture of the Founding Fathers
 - the comment on the introductory statement was that patriarchy was the order of the day at the time – 1770s etc
 - Remember that Thomas Jefferson tried to put the end of slavery in the constitution and didn’t succeed. St Germain showed up and said “sign it – those following you will get it changed – just get it on the board!”
 - Explains how the numbers got tilted to the Southern, slave-owning states.
- the most populous states are Democratic – like California
- Explains how McTurtle / Mc Connell committed treason . . .
- author says neither Grump nor Hillary are really for democratic representation
- the 13th amendment was created to provide more equality – part of the discussion about

Quotes from the article:

“The “founding fathers” concoction of the EC was just one of the constitutional tools included in the new frame of government. Those tools were intended to shield the special privileges attached to human property from the democratic power of the people.”

“While Trump corralled the votes of white privilege by denying the equality of all of us to each other, and Clinton corralled the progressive vote by proclaiming equal rights for minorities, LGBTs and immigrants, neither called for equality with the privileged governing class. Neither dared champion the democratic rights of those who make up the majority to wrest governing control from the minority of the opulent. They divided the majority with vehement arguments over whether all of us who are slaves to the one percent would be equal to each other.”

- David Cay Johnson got as close as he could to saying this about Trump
 - T adds: Trump owes $10 BILLION to China – he is SO broke!
- The Clinton Foundation holds trillions upon trillions of dollars – it’s a black hole, says Rama!

“Trump or Clinton: Neither is for Democratic Rights

Donald Trump will likely appoint two, maybe more members of the US Supreme Court, whose decisions will constrain the people’s representatives from legislating to change the privileges of property as ensconced nowhere more firmly than in the modern corporation. Trump grafted misogyny, scatology, narcissism, belligerence, nativism, conspiracy hype and racism to his campaign. They resonated with slightly fewer folk than those who voted for Hillary Clinton’s insubstantial message of “who else ya gonna vote for with that clown as your alternative?”

While Trump corralled the votes of white privilege by denying the equality of all of us to each other, and Clinton corralled the progressive vote by proclaiming equal rights for minorities, LGBTs and immigrants, neither called for equality with the privileged governing class. Neither dared champion the democratic rights of those who make up the majority to wrest governing control from the minority of the opulent. They divided the majority with vehement arguments over whether all of us who are slaves to the one percent would be equal to each other."

- the 13th amendment was inserted to provide more equality – and it was taken out in the 1800s – the whole speaks to why NESARA is important: a second Constitution.

The following articles put the current situation into perspective.

Anna Von Reitz had to sign a gag order: she would have been killed had she mentioned NESARA.

It's hard for me to lay myself out,
Both my future and my past,
Not seeking approval or longing for love,
But ready for union at last.

It's a long road to love! Especially as a powerful, intense, individuated, self sufficient being! We blast off into the great unknown but need to remember we're still human. I like the image of a relationship being like a fire. It's hot and cozy and tempting to stay there but both people need to go out and gather some firewood or it will burn out. Just like breathing, in and out and in and out and in and out..... the beat goes on.

So this eclipse is about being free and leaving the other free but not losing connection. Not sacrificing relationship in order to be an individual. And as I say in the video, it's practice practice practice and failing and falling and forgiving and messy and and and.....! It's LIFE! Hope you enjoy the madness and the beauty of it ALL!

CONFERENCE CALL

Caller/A: Name of book mentioned by Richard title is The God Makers - Frank Herbert - 1972

T: tells of a situation when Cynthia was on the edge of a bog; she called in the higher energies and literally flew over the bog -

RI: had to do with the Gate of Power - from her shaman teacher - has to do with a way of running - footsteps can be 20' wide - an exercise in the awareness of your body/mind.
• Yes he has practiced the Gate of Power - he does it at night on a straight road - have to let go and trust the body and know you won't veer off into a tree: have to get mind out of the way

T: did it without thinking about it when she was dancing - the weight of her body was lighter
The other was the emergency when she had to get out of ice-cold water and had gone down for the 3rd time.

Question: is that why people can lift cars or concrete in time of an accident?

T: Yes. It's being able to call on the collective mind and its focus; has also something to do with being able to lift your body off - 4' off the chair, and then lower it again.

Caller/C: something seen in the ninja tradition

T: as in the movie Crouching Tiger and Caller/S: talked of an experience watching her boyfriend in younger days - in a

In order to bi-locate, how much light does one have to hold in the cells?

T: doesn't know how to quantify it. . .

Caller/S: What is Light Body - written by Kashira -

T: an experience when you can lift your arms in the air without lifting the rest of your body

Question: the relationship between the flash and the announcements

T: everything is a simulcast - the centre of our gravity is ever moving - it's going on behind what we can see - one little 15 minute discussion with Max Bluementhal - Jan 25th on the Ed Show - close to the beginning.

• The piece from Boom Bust - all the markets are falling out of bed all at the same time - January 31st - Guest is Danielle De Martinez the president of Money Strong; the book she wrote was Fed Up: an insider's take on why the Federal Reserve is bad for America.

The new Fed Chair has 7 weeks to prepare for the first Board meeting of the Fed;

- a 2.4% savings rate for people in the US
- the markets are unhinged - animal spirits have been sent free - and we're seeing a meltup - signs emerging from the household sector that are not good!
- Asks her what her opinion is on the market - regardless of the barometer - the stock market is more over valued except for 1929 - same can be said of the bond market. Deutsche Bank looked back to 1800 to find out when the bond market was as hot as it is at the moment.

LISTEN TO THE MP3 OF THIS CONVERSATION - ENDED UP BEING BASED ON THE COMMENTS FROM THE INTERVIEW BETWEEN THE BOOM-BUST HOST AND DANIELLE

Also very insightful callers . . .

Rama spoke to Buffy Sainte-Marie last week

Taken from News Update

Thursday, January 25, 2018

Ram called into Native America Calling radio show today, and got to speak with their guest, Buffy Sainte-Marie. Buffy has a new album out, called MEDICINE SONGS (2017), and she was talking about everyone getting mobilized to resist the war machine, just as was done in the '60s. Buffy said, "At this time on the planet, there is no need for foul language or political bullying or making fun of handicapped and disabled people that the Grump seems to keep on doing as the so-called leader of the free world, and that he has dishonoured the Goddess."

Buffy warned the Grump, "Prepare for a backlash that will hit your entire family."

The host asked Buffy, "What do you mean by that, Ms Sainte-Marie?"

Buffy responded, "Mr Grump may return from Davos, Switzerland and he may be met by divorce papers. Or Melania may just go back to New York with her son, Baron, and cut off all ties with her husband."

As Ram called up, he told Buffy, "I have been listening to you since the '60s. I was also at Woodstock listening to you, and I have been sharing your message of non-violence and peace ever since. I helped burn draft cards in 1967. I was in Haight-Ashbury at the time, and I was 14. We created a bonfire in the middle of an intersection, and everybody threw in their draft cards and burned them."

Buffy said to Rama: "Thank you, Lord Rama. We need more people like you right now to change this world towards peace." [Buffy is a Faction 3 White Knight!]

Can a sacred plant medicine from the Amazon heal our minds and spirits? In the heart of the jungle, a naturopathic doctor and an accountant experience life-altering epiphanies when they drink the psychoactive brew ayahuasca, the “vine of the soul.” This award-winning documentary explores the mystery of ayahuasca shamanism, offering insights into the nature of spirituality, mystical experience and self-healing discovered through an expanded state of consciousness.

Is ayahuasca a doorway to direct knowledge of the divine or a path that leads to psychological trauma? Can it cure modern addictions to drugs and alcohol or is ayahuasca itself a possible substance of abuse? Some call it a medicine, others a sacrament; the Amazonian shamans say it is simply a “plant teacher” that tells you what you need to know.

2018-02-03 (2016-11-19) Blog~ Propertied Privilege Trumps Democracy

by Ben Price, CELDF

If You Think the Electoral College is the Only Problem – Well, that's Part of the Problem

<https://celdf.org/2016/11/blog-propertied-privilege-trumps-democracy/>

In the still early years of the twenty-first century, two presidents have been selected – not elected – without the assenting vote of the majority. How this could happen in a so-called democracy is the question of the day following Donald Trump's successful clinching of the 2016 presidential contest. He didn't win it by getting more people to vote for him. Instead, he prevailed by winning the votes of a magic number of Electoral College (EC) delegates.

In 2012 Trump called the EC "phony" when it seemed possible Mitt Romney might win the popular vote but not the EC. Now that the popular vote has gone against him and the EC is set to select him as the next president anyway, Trump is quoted as saying, "The Electoral College is actually genius in that it brings all states, including the smaller ones, into play."

Image from Political Vendetta News Network <http://pvnn.org/2016/10/22/voting-out-the-electoral-college-3/>

It's a case of states' rights trumping the actual vote count. Does it make sense? No, not if "one person – one vote" means anything. But the states that use a "winner-take-all" method of assigning EC delegates to presidential candidates exert a degree of sovereignty that would be lost in a nationwide system that respected the popular vote. Only Maine and Nebraska assign delegates proportionally.

The election of 2000 was the last time the biggest vote-getter lost the presidency to the EC. In a nail-biter of a popular vote finish, the votes of Florida's EC delegates were given to George W. Bush when the U.S. Supreme Court halted a vote recount in the state. Al Gore, who won the popular vote nationally, went home to make a movie about climate change instead of moving into the White House. George W. Bush went on to invade and kill a million people in Iraq and blow three trillion dollars on the false pretense of protecting the U.S. from weapons the Iraqis never had. So yes, the EC's dominance of U.S. presidential elections has consequences.

Hillary Clinton took the majority of the popular vote this year by a smallish but real majority, and Donald Trump will be the next president of the United States. There is consternation throughout the land that this undemocratic outcome will be at least as consequential as was the elevation of George W. Bush above the will of the people. "What gives?" You might ask. "Why do we have an EC at all?"

The Counter Revolutionary “Founding Fathers” and the Electoral College

The answer isn't pretty. It exposes the “founding fathers” who wrote the current US Constitution for the undemocratic, racist, misogynist counter-revolutionaries that they were. In 1789 when the US Constitution was ratified, it included provisions that protected the property rights of slave owners against any claim that their human chattel had legal and civil rights. It institutionalized slavery as a constitutionally protected right of the owners of human “property.” Those “founders” made sure that no future generation could diminish the property “rights” of slave masters by electing abolitionists to high offices in government. The protection of privileges attached to ownership of property of all sorts, not just slaves, was the prime motivator for crafting the U.S. Constitution. They worked diligently and invented many novel mechanisms to insulate the unequal privileges of wealth from the challenge that an emergence of inalienable rights through democratic public governance might pose.

Reprinted from Forbes: <http://www.forbes.com/sites/geoffloftus/2015/06/30/four-leadership-lessons-from-the-founding-fathers/#200c1ac073b1>

The “founding fathers” concoction of the EC was just one of the constitutional tools included in the new frame of government. Those tools were intended to shield the special privileges attached to human property from the democratic power of the people.

Slave states were afforded an extra scoop of representation in Congress, thanks to the novelty known as the “three-fifths clause.” Likewise, delegates to the EC were assigned from each state, proportional to their populations, with slaves being counted as “three-fifths” of a human being. In addition, each state added two delegates to this total. The result: The EC delegates equaled in number their congressional representatives plus their two senators. This last refinement was a concession to less populated states, making each citizen in them better represented on the EC than more populous ones.

Securing Slavery and Protections for the Few

The “founders” negotiated in secret for a national government that would “protect the minority of the opulent against the majority,” as James Madison put it. They created a Constitution that gave slave owners power not only to disproportionately dominate the Congress, but through the EC they also secured a larger than equal degree of representation in choosing who would be president. Slave ownership gave those propertied citizens virtual control of the legislature and the executive branches. Worse, the dominance of the national government by the slave-holding minority extended to the judiciary as well. The presidents selected by the EC had the power to appoint life-term members of the Supreme Court, which had power to overturn laws enacted by the Congress.

The effect of the protection of privileges in property was that all three branches of the new government were dominated by the will of those who counted fellow human beings as cattle. The results were historic, with consequences that still haunt us. Slave states controlled law-making, the enforcement of law, and the judicial power to overturn laws up until the civil war. Their undemocratic and unequal power to govern ensured that no legislation challenging slavery would go forward. And today, despite the abolition of slavery and the nullification of the three-fifths clause, case law created by antebellum judges continues to taint legal outcomes today. And the EC still determines who will hold the executive power, and who will preside over the legislature, defining which laws are acceptable and which ones are not.

Trump or Clinton: Neither is for Democratic Rights

Donald Trump will likely appoint two, maybe more members of the US Supreme Court, whose decisions will constrain the people's representatives from legislating to change the privileges of property as ensconced nowhere more firmly than in the modern corporation. Trump grafted misogyny, scatology, narcissism, belligerence, nativism, conspiracy hype and racism to his campaign. They resonated with slightly fewer folk than those who voted for Hillary Clinton's insubstantial message of "who else ya gonna vote for with that clown as your alternative?" While Trump corralled the votes of white privilege by denying the equality of all of us to each other, and Clinton corralled the progressive vote by proclaiming equal rights for minorities, LGBTs and immigrants, neither called for equality with the privileged governing class. Neither dared champion the democratic rights of those who make up the majority to wrest governing control from the minority of the opulent. They divided the majority with vehement arguments over whether all of us who are slaves to the one percent would be equal to each other.

Reprinted from Huffington Post: http://www.huffingtonpost.com/robert-kuttner/donalds-unlikely-gift-to-b_11381180.html

Trump may cling to his viscerally powerful rhetoric like a security blanket, but it's merely a tool he employed for the purpose of manipulating emotions and securing a cohesive voter base. His offensive bloviations are props, the way judgmental Christianity has been a prop for the far right; the way fear of the know-nothings has been used on the left to protect the established Democratic hierarchy. These are not core political values for the candidates chosen for us to choose between. Whichever party won, it would by design have had no impact on the strangle-hold wealth has on governance in the US. These important issues of social justice are, in the eyes of both political camps, merely the herding dogs of the plutocrats, the ones Madison called the "minority of the opulent," the one percent. This point is obvious if we take note of how regularly candidates in both parties have changed positions on gay marriage and abortion in response to public sentiment.

Trump's election does nothing to change the plutocratic nature of governance in the US. He may have appealed to blue collar whites, but he's not one of them. And though the path this billionaire took to power may differ cosmetically from the one prior Republican candidates have followed, the outcome is no different, and so the methods he used won't matter to the party members he savaged during the campaign. Had Clinton secured the EC votes needed, it's not clear the status quo for the billionaire class would have been affected either.

So What Is the Problem?

Let's be clear: the problem isn't just the EC, any more than it's just Citizen United or political gerrymandering or voter suppression. It's all of those things plus the many other legal and constitutional mechanisms devised by the self-appointed governing class to prevent any change that would diminish their wealth and authority to govern.

In the confidential security of the secret constitutional convention of 1787, Alexander Hamilton said, without contradiction from his fellow conspirators,

"All communities divide themselves into the few and the many. The first are the rich and well born, the other the mass of the people...Give therefore to the first class a distinct, permanent share in the government. They will check the unsteadiness of the second."

Broadway musicals lauding his devotion to democracy notwithstanding, he helped craft a constitution that allowed those with wealth to govern, while the rest naively believe their voices matter.

Alexander Hamilton admitted that both Madison's and his plan of government "are very remote from the idea of the people," although he argued that "the people are gradually ripening in their opinions of government. They begin to be tired of an excess of democracy." He proposed to his elite colleagues that a compromise between his and Madison's plans would serve as an acceptable alternative to what they preferred: a propertied aristocracy governing openly. The result, what became the US Constitution, he said would be "but pork still, with a little change of the sauce."

Today we continue to slurp down that pabulum, and every few years when the undemocratic stew they constitutionalized for our consumption churns up something nasty looking that looks back at us curiously, we grimace with distaste, as though surprised every time.

And so we continue to live under a system of law and governance that elevates corporations and profits over people and nature. This remains true no matter who is president, and will not change until we build a broad people's movement to establish rights for people and nature over the systems that control them.

CELDF is spearheading that movement, working to establish rights for humans and nature over the systems that control them. Help us advance those rights in 2017 – donate today.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In law, the situs (pronounced /ˈsɑːtəs/) (Latin for position or site) of property is where the property is treated as being located for legal purposes. This may be important when determining which laws apply to the property, since the situs of an object determines the lex situs, that is, the law applicable in the jurisdiction where the object is located, which may differ from the lex fori, the law applicable in the jurisdiction where a legal action is brought. For example, real estate in England is subject to English law, real estate in Scotland is subject to Scottish law, and real estate in France is subject to French law.

It can be essential to determine the situs of an object, and the lex situs, because there are substantial differences between the laws in different jurisdictions governing, for example: whether property has been transferred effectively; what taxes apply (such as inheritance tax, estate tax, wealth tax, income tax and capital gains tax); and whether rules of intestacy or forced heirship apply.

The rules for determining situs vary between jurisdictions and can depend on the context. The English common law rules, which apply in most common law jurisdictions, are in outline as follows:

- the situs of real estate (land) is where it is located.
- the situs of a chattel (tangible moveable item) is where it is currently located.
- the situs of a bearer instrument is where the document is located, but the situs of a registered instrument is where the register is held.
- the situs of debts is where the debtor resides, since that is generally where legal action can be taken to enforce the debt.
- the situs of intangible property, including intellectual property and goodwill, is where the property is registered, or, if not registered, where the rights to the property can be enforced.
- the situs of a ship within territorial waters is where it is located, but the situs of a ship in international waters is its port of registry.

<https://definitions.uslegal.com/f/foreign-situs-trust/>

Foreign-situs trust refers to a trust created under foreign law. Such trusts are treated as a non-resident individual for federal tax purposes and therefore has no significant income-tax benefits. They are usually subject to greater reporting requirements than a domestic trust. Foreign-situs trust is also used as a means of asset protection as the creditors cannot easily reach the foreign trust's assets.

Foreign-situs trusts are also called foreign trusts or offshore trusts.

2018-01-30 One More Time S-L-O-W-L-Y

<https://mainerepublicemailreport.com/2018/01/30/one-more-time-s-l-o-w-l-y/>

By Anna von Reitz

1. You begin your life as “one of the free, sovereign, and independent people of the United States”— a Virginian, Minnesotan, Texan, etc....
2. While still a baby in your cradle, “uniformed officers” conscripted into the U.S. Army — who appear to be civilian doctors, improperly seize upon your name and estate and coerce your Mother to sign a False Information to the effect that you are a “US citizen”— the same political status you would have if you were a Puerto Rican, born in Puerto Rico or one of the other Insular Territories, like Guam.
3. This status as a “Territorial Citizen” obligates you to serve the government and obey its every whim, to be defined as a “taxpayer” and subjected to Selective Service, and to need a license— which is official permission to do something that is otherwise illegal— like getting married or traveling in your car from Point A to Point B. It also subjects you to the foreign British Equity Law and Territorial Court System, which is rigged against you so that British-affiliated Bar Association members can rule against you 97% of the time via the abundant use of their “judicial discretion”.
4. Throughout your life these vermin misinform you, either deliberately or in ignorance themselves, and tell you that you “have to” have a Social Security Number, you “have to” have a Driver License, you “have to” have a Marriage License, and you obediently do what you are told. Every time you do, you again unwittingly confirm that you are a “US Citizen” and effectively bear False Witness against yourself and against your own interests, just to get along and survive in this ugly horror show world they have created.
5. Here is the first take-home message, campers! You are NOT a “citizen” of anything. Citizens serve the government. Nationals have the government serve them. So which one are you? Uh....duh....are you paying them or are they paying you? And if they are paying you, what is that payment based upon, if not your own hard work and years of paying taxes you never actually owed?
6. So in effect, you have been kidnapped and trafficked into a United States Territory, and never told about this change in your official political status. You’ve been subjected to the Queen of England and the debts of the British Crown Corporation and if you woke up enough to complain, they slammed you into one of their very own rigged courts where they could rape and pillage you and your name and your estate some more.
7. But how could this be? How could this happen? How could nobody know about this? Well, they never told your Mother, and you were too young to know anything about it when it happened, so why would you have any inkling that this is so? You couldn’t know. You couldn’t even complain about it. And the dirty rotten vermin planned it that way.

8. So here you are, transported on paper, to Puerto Rico....without a clue and without a paddle to get home, stuck in THEIR foreign political status, subjected to THEIR foreign law, stuck paying THEIR foreign taxes, suffering through THEIR foreign bankruptcies, and living in THEIR "territorial" reality. And this is all being done to you by what appears to be your government, but it's not. It's THEIR government, which is supposed to be acting under a contract called The Constitution of the United States of America to protect you and your rights.....

9. So how do they get around their contractual obligation to honor and serve, and instead pillage and plunder? They just pretend not to know that you are an American from one of the American nation-states. After all, your Mother said you were a "U.S. Citizen"— she just didn't know which "U.S." they were talking about and wasn't told, either. And then you came along like a good little dweeb and signed up for Social Security, and everyone knows— Title 42 plainly states— that this program is only for federal employees and dependents and political asylum seekers. Well, then! You must have sought political asylum, right? In Puerto Rico, no less. I hear the climate is nice there.

10. Who knew? The Gubmint knew. The black-hearted, treacherous cheats in Washington, DC— they knew. That's how they were getting all the gravy. The Joint Chiefs of Staff— they knew. That's how they paid for their newest whiz-bang jet fighters and germ warfare programs and everything else. The Clintons, Billy and Hillary, and Jimmy and Ronnie and both Georges and Mr. Obummer— they all knew. Everyone on THEIR side of the fence knew and they used to laugh at you poor idiots stumbling around, still thinking that you were living in America. They called you "sovereign citizens"— a deliberate oxymoron, and thought you were too stupid to ever get the joke. They called you "livestock" and treated you that way, too.

11. And if you are NOT mad enough to spit, if you are not angry to the core, if you are NOT ready to get on your feet, then you still aren't getting the drift of what has been done here. Go back to the top and read slowly again, remembering that these are people on your payroll doing this to you and your sons and daughters.

12. But, you say, they are Americans, too. How could this be? Surely, they wouldn't subject themselves to all these things? They wouldn't live like slaves at the mercy of their own employees? Of course, not. They had to leave themselves an out, didn't they? Well, here it is, black and white, the Foreign Sovereigns Immunity Act of 1976. You, my dears, are all "foreign sovereigns"— from THEIR perspective. Oh, they admit that you are in fact sovereign. They can't avoid that. They just pretend that you gave it all away and "volunteered" to be treated as a Puerto Rican and a debt slave and whatever else they wanted to say about you—while they privately retained all their own rights and prerogatives as lawful sovereigns on American soil. You should see Bill Clinton's claim of copyright to his own name and estate. He left nothing out. Not as much as a comma.

13. So, if you are sovereign on American soil and you are owed the guarantees and protections of The Constitution of the United States of America, how is it that you are still being chased around by THEIR bill collectors? Thought to be part of THEIR bankruptcy? Harassed and addressed by THEIR courts? Well, remember, all this bullshit is military. Remember the sentry asking for the password? And if you don't know the password he can shoot you? Right? It's the same thing. You have to give them MANDATORY NOTICE that you are exempt and immune, a Foreign Sovereign (with respect to them) per the Foreign Sovereigns Immunity Act of 1976.

14. And then you start taking names and checking dates and you start holding these vermin, feet first, to the fire. You start telling them the truth— that they have no right to address you. You should also form up your lawful County Jural Assemblies and elect your land and soil jurisdiction Sheriffs, set up your Jury Pools, elect your American Common Law Justices of the Peace. Many of you have been asking— if Hillary broke the law and endangered national security and Obama illegally spied on Donald Trump for political purposes—why are these crooks still walking around? It's because they are claiming to be Foreign Sovereigns on American soil. These lousy pirates have beat feet back home and sought the protection of the political status they have stolen from others. The only way to bring them to justice is for all of us to wake up and remember who we are.

15. Now, most Americans are peaceful, even docile, people. They want to live and let live, mind their own business, work hard and play hard. Most Americans want and ask nothing much from the government, except to be left alone and maybe some pothole-filling duty. But THEY won't leave us alone because THEY want to steal from us. THEY want to continue commandeering our lawful government. THEY want to call the shots and rule over the rest of us. THEY have their cozy little fraud machine and their bogus two party political system all set up. THEY have their "corporate government" and their "corporate military" and THEY would just as soon forget all the old folks back home.

16. It's time to jack them up. Clear to the ceiling. And all these Bar Association members? It's time to tell them where to get off. Way off. Who do they think they are? Who asked for the services of a British Court on American soil? What country do they think they are in? Is this really just Greater Puerto Rico? Or is this about to become America again? With a big, flat, heavy foot stomped down on the Queen of England and all her busy, little, perfidious minions?

HERE IT IS: MANDATORY NOTICE!!! WE ARE AMERICAN FOREIGN SOVEREIGNS RETURNING TO OUR SOIL. WE NEVER REALLY LEFT IT, SO DEATH AND DAMNATION TO ANYONE WHO CLAIMS OTHERWISE.

2018-01-28 Global Currency Reset Comment for January 2018

<https://mainerepublicemailreport.com/2018/01/28/global-currency-reset-comment-for-january-2018/>

by Anna von Reitz

Everyone wants me to comment on this, but what is there to say? It's like orphans waiting for Father Christmas. All these good people who have invested their life's savings in junk bonds without realizing that they are junk bonds.... waiting patiently day after day and week after week and month after month for "the RV".

When the RV comes, it's all going to be peaches and cream. When the RV comes, miracles will abound. Peace will reign. The humble will be raised up. The evil will be cast down. We will all dance and sing. It will be a great, great day when the RV comes..... okay, well.....

All fiat currencies are bonds and bonds are I.O.U.'s issued by specific governments. If the government goes down, how much do you think their I.O.U.'s are worth?

Maybe, just maybe, the successor governments will honor (and be ABLE to honor) the promises of their predecessors. I don't think so. Those promises were never realistic, to begin with, and nothing is going to make them so now. At least, nothing that I know of. Zadok from Planet Xeon – B might show up and change the balance of things, that's true, but I am not betting on it.

Remember that I am a flat-footed little Midwestern girl who grew up dodging cow patties out in the back pasture and having my Uncles ask me funny questions like "Who's on first?" I am not, it is true, the one to take things on faith; I hang back and wait for deeds to prove words and for facts to be verified. I long ago learned that the devil uses our virtues just as expertly as he plays our vices and that tends to keep my head firmly screwed on at all times.....

And in the case of Dinar and Zim and all the rest, what I see is a Devil's Playpen, where he can play the script either way— appeal to the egalitarian instincts of the Good to want to have money to do good, and appeal to the crass instincts of the Greedy not caring about the people in places like Iraq and Zimbabwe, who together with their country's natural resources, would be the ones paying off these huge debts—get them going and coming both ways, you see? The Good and the Greedy, both equally motivated to buy, buy, buy, creating a feeding frenzy.... and "giving value" to promises that are essentially either (a) immoral or (b) worthless— and frankly, I can't see any good coming out of either one of those options.

But, you are asking the wrong person for a number of reasons— first, I don't believe in money. To me, it's all just different kinds and colors of casino chips. Second, if I believe in a real, true, honest "redistribution of wealth" — I know it has to happen via a different process. First and foremost, it has to happen by debt forgiveness and reinvestment.

You can't take a bunch of sharks from different countries, throw them in a small swimming pool, and expect harmony and agreement and constructive work to be accomplished, and that is pretty much my take on what really goes on in the GCR Committee. Everyone talks the talk, nobody walks the walk. Not really.

The Elephant in the Room is America. The real America. The one revealed in "America: Some Assembly Required"— the nation-states and people. Why?

We are/were the primary source (not the only source, but the primary source) of all that wealth that was supposed to be distributed. You know— the “missing” holders of all the world’s debts, the value of all Territorial and Municipal Governments on Earth, plus all the wealth of their franchises..... all belongs, technically, to the actual government of this country because we had very able crooks working here and they used our “abandoned” accounts to stash their loot for decades and they set up all their franchises under our delegated authority, because that is what they abused to build their whole empire.

Imagine the situation..... you come home and find your entire hometown stuffed full to bursting with gold and silver and receipts for gold and silver and emeralds and diamonds and fine art and Lord Only Knows. And part of that is legitimately yours, legitimately your inheritance, fair and square.

But certain other people — in order to get control and distribute all the rest of it, decided to just cut you out of the picture, and pretend that you never came home. Yeah, it was more convenient that way, left more for everyone else, and besides, everyone else in the world was trained to hate your guts and blame you for all the atrocities and wars for profit and violence and pollution and criminality, the drugs and the booze and the whores— it was all racked up and blamed on you, at the same time you were being lied to and used and abused and worked and taxed to death by the same crowd that was lying to the whole rest of the world about you.

Sweet.

Well, well, well..... turns out that the British Monarchs and the Popes are the ones actually responsible for all this rot, with an “Also Culpable Award” going to the members of the Territorial and Municipal United States Congresses since 1860.

So where does that leave us? With a whole lot of spider-web trails of accounts and mirrored accounts, with hoards of “historical assets” that belong to actual people being illegally seized upon by banks, with land claims that are completely specious, with bogus trusts and bogus transmitting utilities and bogus foreign situs trusts as far as the eye can see, and (almost) every government on Earth knee deep in the Kim Chee.

That’s the Good News and the Bad News, because if you stop and think about it— good people wound up in control of the situation, and they will forgive all the bogus debts and share out the profits and not according to a shark fest, but according to the simple fact that there was never any reason or need for anyone to suffer or go without, there has always been far more than enough for everyone on Earth to have good food and water and homes and electricity and indoor plumbing and hospitals and schools and beautiful parks and farms and public buildings and everything else we could want or need.

Always. There has NEVER been any real reason for all this suffering. Ever.

And there is no need for anyone to take a bath on Zim and Dinar investments nor is there any need for those poor countries to have to pay off on these investments. It’s all just the stuff that dreams—or nightmares—are made of, and at the end of the day, those who invested for good reasons will have their ability to do good in full measure abounding, and those who invested for the sake of greed— they will have their just reward, too. I have no doubt that a greater Hand is at work, making sure that a true and just redistribution of wealth will take place and an end to all the grief and lies.

I just don’t expect it to happen by an arbitrary Global Reset of the value of casino chips. I expect it to happen by the entire world waking up, looking around, and realizing that yes, Virginia, there is enough, more than enough, for everyone to have what we need, and more than enough to build good dreams.

2018-01-31 FULL MOON Lunar Eclipse in Leo January 31st 2018~

ART BY MYSTIC MAMMA

*We welcome a FULL MOON Lunar Eclipse in Leo as yet another cyclical evolutionary turn on our personal and collective journey.*

Occurring on the Leo/Aquarius axis, we are being called to reawaken to our original blessings and link our hearts with the heart of the Earth and all of humanity whose essence is Love.

As we work on healing our wounds of disconnection and nurture the feminine principle in all creation, we re-create our world anew.

Here are the MYSTIC MAMMA Astral Insights from our beloved interpreters of the planetary bodies. First from astrologer CHAD WOODWARD from his Kosmic Mind:

"This month's Full Moon is a Supermoon and Total Lunar Eclipse in tropical Leo. As you may also have heard, it's a 'Blue Moon,' the second of two Full Moons in one calendar month.

"Astrologically, a Blue Moon is insignificant (and in some parts of New Zealand this Full Moon occurs on Feb. 1), but a Supermoon/Lunar Eclipse is interesting enough on its own. "

"During a Lunar Eclipse, the Earth's shadow crosses the lunar surface... this projection of the Earth gives the Moon a reddish-brown color (it definitely won't be blue); this is why lunar eclipses are also called Blood Moons.

"Both Solar and Lunar Eclipses occur in pairs each year, and Supermoon Lunar eclipses aren't that rare...

*"Much like this Supermoon/Eclipse itself, be mindful of overhyped exaggerations.

"With Venus in opposition to the Moon, look beyond appearances. The tendency to be fooled by glamorous facades can be one theme and pitfall of this Lunar Eclipse.

"But if you believe in whatever you're putting out there, trust this lunation's call to confidently step up and gain applause, attention, and recognition from others...

"And with both Venus and Jupiter's connection to this lunation, it supplies auspicious peak energy for parties and celebratory events, especially acknowledging the completion or culmination of something significant...

"Watch out for over the top displays of egotism. Undeserved pride can lead to humiliating downfalls.

"Be careful of overestimating what you're capable of, or even taking a good time too far into mindless overindulgence...

"If you're mindful of those negatives, this Supermoon/lunar eclipse is an exciting culmination of creative and playful energy, touched by two benefic planets.

"It has the power to restore optimism, playfulness, joy, and a willingness to embrace new opportunities."

Astrologer CATHY PAGANO from her Wisdom of Astrology says:

"Both eclipse seasons invite us to discover our own unique heart skills which we can contribute to our collective culture.

"Love is supposed to lead the way for all of us.

"Women are especially called to add our voices and imaginations to help heal our cultural wounds, while men are called to defend what is true, beautiful and good in the world.

"Our world is so out of balance that it has to descend into chaos to get remade.

"All honorable people want to re-make the world with a more balanced, life-giving energy, which gives equal value to the feminine gifts of imagination, emotional intelligence and compassion as well as the masculine gifts of clarity, reason and justice...

"The Moon and Ceres join with the North Node in Leo, which is a collective directive to each of us to express our unique creativity.

"The Moon and Ceres, the Roman fertility and mother goddess, are both energies that help us access our unconscious (Moon) feelings of being un-loved (Ceres).

"We all deserve to be loved just for ourselves and so many of us weren't loved in that way.

"Ceres asks us to let her mother us, to let ourselves be and feel loved...

"Who would we have become if we were allowed to follow our soul's longings in life?

"...Who would we be if we all felt, down in our bones, that we are worthy of love?

Not because we have money or are smart or good at our jobs, but just because we are alive?

"If we can think these kinds of thoughts, and open our hearts to our original blessings and hopes, what would we do? Who would we be? What would our world look like?"

Astrologer PAT LILES from The Power Path.com says:

"Here we have the South Node aligned with the Sun and Venus – an opportunity to let go of all those times we felt we weren't loved the way we thought we should have been loved.

"In Aquarius, we can look with some real detachment at the events of our lives, acknowledge the experience, let that old loved/unloved story go..

"Aquarius Sun/Venus can help us move in to the modern moment of now, push the boundary, and live in an entirely new headspace where we ARE love.

"The Lunar Eclipse at Full Leo Moon is aligned with the North Node – our edgy point of growth at this time, and exactly conjunct Ceres – Earth Mother...

"Mother and nurturing issues go deep and eclipses are known to reveal and release that which is hidden."

Astrologer DIVINE HARMONY shares:

"..with this Total Lunar Eclipse on the North Node in Leo- there's a clearing out happening in our solar plexus/3rd chakras and in our creative selves, romantic relationships, relationships with children and/or relationship to the child within...

"One of the most significant aspects of the eclipse chart is something that showed up in the New Moon in Capricorn chart: Ceres the Great Mother asteroid EXACTLY on the North Node of destiny and evolution and Juno the asteroid Goddess of partnership and marriage on the karmic South Node...

"With Ceres on the North Node heading into quincunx Pluto- we are in deep times right now where we are being asked to see what is out of balance, what is not healthy and what is being suppressed within us emotionally but also collectively...

"Demetra George says tense Pluto/Ceres aspects can unearth intense emotional crises- particularly regarding loss and separation (from mother, from children, from Mother Earth, from the essential self).

"Deep experiences of grief, rage, sorrow, anger and depression can arise when Pluto tense aspects Ceres- much like Ceres went through in her myth when Pluto abducted her beloved daughter and took her into the Underworld...

"The North Node in Leo is asking us to get radical in our self-care, self-Love and self-nourishment!

"We also need to get radical in our care and Love for Mother Earth!!! She is our Mother Matrix- without her we cannot sustain ourselves...

"It will take fierce Love to shift things right now- within ourselves, in our relationships, on our planet and more...

"Neptune harmoniously links with the Sun on the karmic South Node- which can make it very easy to spiritually bypass during this eclipse.

"Spiritual bypassing is when we use spirituality to escape our pain, when we prematurely forgive before we have fully moved through the pain/anger/grief/rage that is there, and when we default to transcendence, choosing to go up and out before we have truly descended and gone all the way down and in and through.

"The Full Moon/Ceres/North Node conjunction asks us to be fully here now: embodied..."

"Star Sparks by ELLIAS LONSDALE:

Leo 12: The mouth of the Amazon River

"This world we live in is wide open. Anywhere we want to go, the invitation is there.

"Yet if we are going to take the path of open destiny where it leads, first we will need to liberate ourselves from all the versions of this which turn out to be mirages, illusions.

"We so easily draw to ourselves that which looks and insists that it is the open adventure, the free space, the clear possibility.

"Yet soon enough we find that we are enveloped in something so familiar and so stuck. In fact, we are repeating ourselves endlessly, in yet another variation.

"Quite compulsively, we persist in this pattern until we cannot bear another cycle of self-avoidance.

"Then the actual open portal of the New Earth is right here before us.

"Unlike the substitutes, this one gives no ego-mileage, never will it make us a special person.

"Instead, it floods us into journeying with everybody in a bigger story than the one we've told before. That unusual dimension allows us to breathe free of our own extraordinary nature.

"For it turns out that the good we can do starts when we give it all through us without a trace of self-conscious absorption in our own magnitude.

"But it takes so many heartbreaks, such deep letting go to find the place beyond the separative self version of existence.

"The only way we'll hang in there through all the twists and turns is if we just know that we are worth it and that this world is worth it.

"The place of all-worlds-converging, all-times-now, all-windows-open calls to us here with a force, a power, a great passion.

"We must find the real thing and become it's true servant."

Some Thoughts on the Current Eclipses

[A word about the eclipses. I know. Attention is focused on the big fancy eclipse of 1/31/18 UT and the follow up eclipse on February 15, UT. And here I am writing about the Uranus Taurus Ingress. Why?

No matter how dramatic an aspect is (and this one is a real headline grabber), it can only be properly understood in terms of the overall astrological context. That is as true of the eclipse, as it is of the Uranus Taurus ingress that I am writing about. And the astrological context for both is pretty much the same. So much of what I would have to say about the eclipse, I would also have to say about the Uranus Taurus ingress.

In recent months, I have been speaking in terms of the long, slow breakdown of the oligarchic alignment. Between the early 1970s and 2010-11, when Uranus entered Aries, the three powerful outer planets were all in signs associated with the 1%.

The 1% used this astrological lineup to massively empower themselves. The outcome of almost 40 years of political and economic dominance by the 1% is global oligarchy. Since 2010-11 when Uranus moved out of the oligarchic alignment, into Aries, the astrological story has been about the agonizingly slow breakdown of the oligarchic alignment and the global oligarchy to which it gave rise. If you are interested you can find an account of this situation in this post.

The Uranus Taurus ingress is about reaching a major threshold in the break down of the oligarchic alignment and a shift in power. The Uranus Taurus ingress heralds the arrival of a major shift in social, political and economic values.

The astrological context is about breaking free of oligarchic control - of resetting the gross imbalance of political and economic power between the 1% and the 99%. The Uranus Taurus ingress is, I believe, about the critical political and economic turning point so many have been waiting for.

In my astrological opinion, both the eclipse of 1/31/18 and the Uranus Taurus ingress are about the same thing - a tipping point in the breakdown of the oligarchic alignment and its earthly reflection, entrenched global oligarchy. The big fancy eclipse on 01/31/18 will be a prelude to the transformational process triggered by the Uranus Taurus ingress.

Eclipses are change agents. Typically, they trigger long-awaited, long-delayed changes. Eclipses also trigger course corrections. I think this extra special eclipse (Blue Moon, Red Moon, Super Moon eclipse) will trigger some of the changes needed to finally undo the grip of oligarchy. The rarity of such eclipses reflects just how important those changes are and how difficult they would be to finally bring about without an assist from the eclipse.

This eclipse is a preview of things to come. This eclipse will be a powerful detonation at the foundations of the oligarchic status quo. The upcoming transit of Uranus in Taurus will finish the job of demolition.

When all is said and done, then, I believe the eclipse of 1/31 UT will kick start the change process to be continued by Uranus in Taurus. However, of the two, I think the Uranus Taurus ingress is the more important and more far reaching astrological event. If you want to know what I really think about this eclipse, read what I have to say about the Uranus Taurus ingress.]

The Matter at Hand

In my most recent astrology post I tried to lay out the surprisingly complex, powerfully and deeply changeful Saturn and Pluto energies now at work in Capricorn. I only touched on the pivotal Uranus Taurus ingress. I think it would now be helpful to look more closely at the Uranus Taurus ingress and its connection with the Saturn/Pluto energies at work in Capricorn.

In my opinion, the Uranus Taurus ingress will mark a major turning point, one we have all been waiting for. I will try to explain why in this post.

It is widely felt that we are passing out of an era marked by suffocating oligarchic control of global economic and political life, however slowly. Currently, huge portions of global economic and political power remain in the hands of the wealthiest 1%. The rest of the world's political and economic power, a much smaller portion, rests in the hands of the remaining 99% of the population.

The future of the world seems literally to hang in the balance, waiting on changes we seem unable to make. The oligarchic system seems frozen solidly in place. We are unable to make the changes needed to keep the world from coming apart, ecologically, politically, economically, socially and geographically.

World conditions continue to deteriorate. Positive change is elusive. Tension is running high. Anxiety is epidemic. Progress is too slow. We await a "tipping point." I believe Uranus in Taurus will bring this tipping point.

Saturn Begins a New Saturn/Capricorn Cycle.

Saturn, in Capricorn, its home sign, is beginning an entirely new Saturn/Capricorn cycle. This Uranus Taurus ingress will take place at a fundamentally important moment in the so-called Saturn/Capricorn cycle. The change processes now occurring in Capricorn are soon to be dramatically affected by Uranus in Taurus.

After its transit of Capricorn, Saturn will continue its trip around the Zodiac. As it does so, it will make changes in each sign consistent with the changes now occurring in Capricorn.

Thus, over a period of roughly 30 years, during this new Saturn/Capricorn cycle, Saturn will trigger a re-examination of governmental, administrative, managerial and organizational matters of all kinds, in all areas, at all levels, across the whole Zodiac, and around the world. These changes will be compatible with changes currently taking place in Capricorn.

Let's just say that the energies now at work in Capricorn are turning Capricorn into a superheated caldron. The laws - or patterns - that govern our world are being dropped into this caldron to be melted down and re-cast. From this caldron, new laws and patterns will be poured out around the Zodiac. Commensurate changes will follow in every sign of the Zodiac as Saturn completes the Saturn/Capricorn cycle.

The Uranus Taurus ingress will be key to enabling, motivating and shaping fateful transformations now taking place in Capricorn. Under the influence of the Uranus in Taurus energies, deep change will come to every part of our life, in every area and level of society, everywhere on earth.

Beyond Stalemate

The Saturn and Pluto energies in Capricorn are already taking on a decidedly Uranian/Aquarian tint and it is growing stronger. Because Uranus has been squaring Capricorn from Aries, it is already influencing events in Capricorn. The Uranus Taurus ingress will turn this blocking, square relationship into a supportive, trine relationship.

We should not forget the prolonged square between Uranus and Pluto. This square was exact seven times between 2012-2015. The Uranus/Pluto square is still a significant background influence. (Notice, too, that both recent eclipses are on the Leo/Aquarius axis. The solar eclipse on February 15 is in Aquarius proper, accenting the Aquarius/Uranus influence.)

This Aries/Capricorn, square relationship, is 'separating,' making it progressively weaker. The Taurus/Capricorn, trine relationship, however, is 'applying,' making it progressively stronger. And we can't help but notice that everything going on in Capricorn is slowly moving toward Aquarius. It's increasingly hard not to realize that events in Capricorn are precursors to events in Aquarius and that at some level, present events in Capricorn are directly related to future events in Aquarius. At some level, in one sense or another, Aquarian and Uranian influences are already at work in Capricorn.

This seems especially so since Capricorn and Aquarius have closely related functions in the Zodiac. Capricorn rules the governance of society. Aquarius rules efforts to idealize Society. The kind of freedom characteristically sought in Aquarius represents the apotheosis - the highest possible expression - of Capricornian skills. That is, the kind of social ideals inspired by Aquarius and Uranus require Capricornian, or management and administrative, skills of the highest order for their fulfillment. The current astrological set up will improve standards of performance in realms governed by Capricorn.

The Convergence of Saturn and Uranus, Capricorn and Aquarius

Saturn and Uranus also have a close relationship at the archetypal level. Indeed, the nature and function of Saturn and Uranus seem to overlap at the archetypal level. Technically, Saturn and Uranus are co-rulers of Aquarius.

Saturn's change-making insights originate in difficult experience. The insights of Uranus are inspired by the intuition, and/or the higher mind.

With luck, both kinds of insight - Saturnian and Uranian insight - work in tandem. Empirical, day to day - Saturnian - insights are complemented by transcendent - Uranian - insights, and vice versa.

The End of an Impasse

While in Aries, Uranus has a conflicted (square) relationship with the energetic blend in Capricorn. This square has been preventing dialogue, blocking resolution of the political and economic issues that are confronting people around the globe. When Uranus enters Taurus, Uranus will flip into a harmonious, facilitating (trine) relationship with the Saturn/Pluto dynamic in Capricorn.

In a single stroke, the Uranus Taurus ingress will:

(1) end the stalemate between the changeful energies of Uranus in Aries and the changeful energies of Saturn and Pluto in Capricorn.

(2) Uranus in Taurus will establish a harmonious, synergistic relationship between its own changeful energies and the changeful energies of Saturn and Pluto now roiling Capricorn.

3) The Uranus Taurus ingress takes place amidst a series of broad sextiles and semi-sextiles: Jupiter is direct in Scorpio. Saturn and Pluto are retrograde in Capricorn. Mars is retrograde in Aquarius. Neptune is retrograde in Pisces. Uranus is direct in Taurus. These planets form what we might call a 'bracelet' of harmonious, facilitating minor aspects.

The square Uranus in Aries made to Capricorn lessened the supportive power of this bracelet. The broad, sustained trine relationship the Uranus Taurus ingress will form with Capricorn will strengthen the power of this bracelet. Also, the forward motion of the planets involved will also intensify the power of this bracelet; the retrograde motion of these planets will dilute the intensity of this bracelet.

Deciding What Kind of World We Will Have in the Future

With respect to the possibility of progress and reform, the Uranus Taurus ingress will make a dramatic, positive difference for which we have all been eager. This trine does not guarantee what so many want to see: a decisive swing of political and economic power in favor of the 99%. I think, rather, that it foretells a vigorous and productive dialog about the many challenges we are now facing globally. The Uranus Capricorn trine will lead us beyond the deadening stalemate that besets global discourse on so many crucial issues today. I believe the change energies Uranus in Taurus will unleash will be deep, pervasive, intense, volatile and ultimately impossible to resist. Essentially, Pluto will compel us to investigate and expose the negative consequences of current, mostly oligarchic policies; Saturn will compel us to scrutinize the evidence rigorously. Uranus will generate protest and the demand for reform. Uranus, Saturn and Pluto energy, facilitated by the 'bracelet,' will bring flux to an extreme, perhaps chaotic pitch. What I have called 'the bracelet' will facilitate productive, occasionally chaotic change.

Chaos, Discovery and Reform

As I said, I think it is impossible to predict outcomes at this point. However, I think certain seemingly optimistic conclusions are realistic. We will finally find ourselves able to rethink and renegotiate those unjust oligarchic patterns that still dominate our political and economic thinking, locally and globally, and which seem to stubbornly resist change.

Under these influences, we will be able - we will have to - debate more freely, openly and fairly. It looks to me like the planets have gone out of their way to insure a fair, free and open dialogue, or debate.

What Changes Might Come

The planets appear to me to have achieved this new dialogue by bringing us to the brink of chaos. At the same time, however, I see in all this the possibility of profound and lasting change.

By all accounts, the 1% has enjoyed an outsized economic and political advantage for many years. By all accounts, too, they have exploited that advantage to gain and hold the upper hand, economic and politically. It seems reasonable to suppose that a planetary set up that favors free and open debate would lead to a resetting of the imbalance between the 1% and the 99%. In many ways, the effects of these energies will be unpredictable and perhaps even impossible to explain. Expect unlikely outcomes.

The level of disorder will be so great, it will be nearly impossible for any one group to ensure the outcome they prefer. Theoretically, it might be possible for one faction to successfully steer the events caused by these energies into unfair advantage. But in my opinion, neither the 1% nor the 99% will be able to work their will with these energies.

I think these chaotic energies will favor the discovery of the truth, if only because they will cause so much confusion that no one can successfully conceal facts, control the flow of information or organize their thoughts clearly enough to sell a convincing lie.

So I think the virtually chaotic elements in these energies will give rise to an open, free public dialogue on the issues before us. Given the gross inequality of current economic and political relationships, it seems likely that a productive public dialogue will almost inevitably lead to a better deal for the 99%.

Another example, given the damage currently being inflicted on our environment and the mishandling of the world's natural resources, I think a genuinely open dialogue will lead to an improvement in environmental conditions and the better management of the world's resources. And so on.

Personally, I am optimistic.

As Uranus begins its year-long transition into Taurus this May, the global stalemate between the 1% and the 99% will begin to end. How quickly and how drastically things change will ultimately depend on how we all respond to these energies.

A Resurgence of Organized Labor Activity

Another conclusion seems reasonable to me. Taurus is in the sixth house of the US chart. The sixth house is the house of organized labor in the US chart. Historically, organized labor has been a powerful progressive force, fighting vigorously for the interests of the 99%.

Uranus in Taurus will kick off a new 84-year Taurus/Uranus cycle. This suggests a long term resurgence of organized labor and progressive politics in the US.

Organized labor is inherently international in its orientation. To the extent that the American labor movement flexes its new Uranian muscle internationally, Uranus in Taurus could give rise to a surge in progressive politics globally.

Along similar lines, in 2020, we are expecting a Saturn/Pluto conjunction in the third decan, the Virgo decan, of Capricorn. The Saturn/Pluto conjunction will produce a surge of impatience for change and reform globally that looks like it will translate into a revival of union activity.

So, you might be wondering, when can we expect the influence of Uranus in Taurus to make itself felt?

In Again, Out Again Ingresses, Etc.

I would like to be able to report that as soon as Uranus hits the cusp of Taurus this May, we will immediately begin to experience all the benefits. I can't do that.

Astrological events do not always happen all at once. For example, planets, like Uranus, often move into a sign, stay awhile, then retrograde back out. They inevitably resume forward motion later on and re-enter the sign for the full transit. It is not uncommon for this process to take the better part of a year. Uranus's move into Taurus will follow this pattern.

It often seems like the planet involved is rushing, or pushing, us into a risky and uncertain situation. Alternatively, the planets could be creating a situation that seems too good to be true. But when the planet or planets in question begin to retrograde, the danger recedes and we go back to the drawing board. Grave risks are often averted.

Retrograde motion often reshuffles the cards. It sends people back to the drawing board. In my experience, this long, seemingly drawn out back and forth process can be anticlimactic in a good way. It produces a far less dramatic and more desirable outcome than we might at first expect. In my experience, it usually seems to work out for the best.

A look at the details will help us set our expectations.

The Dates in Question

1. On May 15, 2018, Uranus, in forward motion, will reach the cusp of Taurus (0° Taurus) for the first time. Uranus in forward motion will establish a broad trine relationship with the change forces now in Capricorn.

Mars will be direct in Aquarius. Neptune will be direct in Pisces. However, Saturn and Pluto, the change forces in Capricorn, will be retrograde. Also, Jupiter will be retrograde in Scorpio.

As I said above, Uranus in Taurus will bring the turning point many await, and have been awaiting, for several years. People will feel that. I don't think the retrograde motion of so many planets will mask the arrival of this turning point. Nor do I think it will completely suppress the thrill of anticipation the Uranus Taurus ingress will bring.

We will most likely sense the sudden meshing of the gears of progress, but the expectation of immediate progress will be damped by the retrograde motion of Saturn, Pluto and Jupiter. People will sense a surge of forward motion, a decisive movement in the direction of progressive economic and political change. It will be as hard to miss as the sudden jolt a railroad engine sends through a line of railway cars when it starts.

But people will surely also sense the delay caused by the retrograde motion of Jupiter, Saturn and Pluto. These delays will most likely be of a bureaucratic, legislative nature, spurred by legislative second thoughts and second-guessing. The delays will most likely not all be caused by the successful obstruction of pro-oligarchic, pro-1% forces, though surely some will.

Uranus in Taurus will generate grassroots resistance. Pluto and Saturn in Capricorn will keep pressure on the oligarchic elements at the top. These things will remain as strong undercurrents, despite the retrograde motion.

Vega routinely grants a special charismatic power to those in positions of authority. But Saturn in Capricorn will suppress Vega's influence. This will deny figures in power the protective camouflage and persuasive edge often granted by Vega. This, in turn, will increase the exposure of power figures to the scrutiny of Saturn and the pressures of Pluto.

In any case, despite the retrograde motion, people will still sense the possibility of change increasing. True, many will feel frustration. Others will feel impatience. But still others will immerse themselves in the issues, seeking deeper understanding, better solutions and more effective means of resistance and protest.

2. August 07, 2018, Uranus goes stationary/retrograde in Taurus. Mars in Aquarius, Saturn and Pluto in Capricorn, Neptune in Pisces will also be retrograde.

When Uranus joins the other planets in backward motion, we will probably still maintain the sense of promise imparted by the Uranus Taurus ingress. However, we will probably also be more acutely aware of the cumulative delays brought on by the retrograde motion of five planets. This could be a spur to resistance and protest as much as a cause for discouragement. It could also help force those in power to re-think and retreat from the oligarchic agenda.

3. November 06, 2018, Uranus will cross back into Aries. Neptune in Pisces will also be retrograde.

When Uranus re-enters Aries, it will resume its square relationship with the planetary energies in Capricorn. A sense of conflict and obstruction will be added by pervasive delays.

The fear that we are slipping back into stalemate, stagnation and obstruction - that we are slipping back into the grip of oligarchy - will reawaken in some. However, I do not think this will completely quash the sense of anticipation created by the Uranus Taurus ingress of May, 2018. I think the hope of real progress, the spirit of protest and reform and the expectation of real change will remain as strong at some level. The resumption of conflict, stalemate and obstruction will not kill the spirit of protest and reform or completely suppress the expectation of progress. People will remember the thrill of Uranus in Taurus even after it returns to Aries.

4. January 06, 2019, Uranus stationary/direct in Aries. All planets will be direct. Uranus will still be squaring Capricorn.

While Uranus is still in Aries, we will feel the sense of frustration over prolonged delays. Some will experience dread as they fear the return of stalemate, conflict and oligarchic dominance. But the forward movement of Uranus will raise the spirits of the 99% and worry the 1% as the specter of resistance, protest and reform returns.

The 99% will not soon forget the thrill of optimism instilled by Uranus in Taurus. When Uranus returns to forward motion and heads back into Taurus, those good feelings will come back strong. Nor will the 1% forget the strength shown by the 99%, or the enthusiasm for reform that Uranus inspired while it was moving direct in Taurus, however briefly.

5. March 6, 2019, Uranus re-enters Taurus for the full transit. All planets are in direct motion. Uranus will resume its trine relationship with Capricorn. The planets are now all in forward motion. After the re-thinking that retrograde motion brings, we will be in a better position to implement concrete change.

Until we know how people are going to react to these energies, it will be impossible to make reliable predictions. But I think we can say that the power struggle between the 1% and the 99% will now be fought on more equal terms.

For their part, the 99% will, at very least, gain the power to 'edit' the oligarchic agenda. Resistance and protest efforts will become progressively more entrenched, robust and effective. The 99% will go forward with greater conviction and confidence. The oligarchs will feel compelled, increasingly, to take the preferences and the demands of the 99% more seriously.

6. April 23, 2019, Uranus will move out of "shadow." That is, it will return to the point in Taurus at which it went stationary/retrograde in early August, 2018. All the planets but Jupiter, now at 5° Sagittarius, will be in direct motion.

There will still be a bracelet of semi-sextiles and sextiles that includes Mars in Gemini, Uranus in Taurus, Neptune in Pisces, Pluto and Saturn in Capricorn and, Jupiter retrograde in Sagittarius. This bracelet formation will help smooth over and work around any negative influences, like the broad T-Square between Mars, Neptune and Jupiter.

So by April 2019, Uranus will return to the farthest point it reached in Taurus before its retrograde. The second guessing and second thoughts will be over for awhile. We will step into a time of Uranian/Aquarian resistance, protest and reform. The foundations of the global oligarchic order will be ready for demolition. The iron grip of the global oligarchy will be effectively broken.
